TOYNEBEE SAYS WORLD WAR III MAY NOT COME

"I suppose we shall just manage to avoid a third world war," Dr. Arnold J. Toynebee, celebrated British historian and author, told a Gettysburg College audience this morning a few minutes before he received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at a Founder's Day convocation in the Student Union Building.

Speaking on "The Outlook for the West," the author of "A Study of History" told his audience the West is passing through a "double crisis" and explained: "The West has lost its supremacy in the world and Europe has lost its supremacy in the West."

Much of his address dealt with relations between the West as a whole and the nonwestern world.

OFFERS FORMULA

He offered this "formula for a happy ending of the West": Settle disputes in countries where there is a predominance or military minority of westerners such as South Africa, the Rhodesias, Algeria and Kenya—"these are not merely internal disputes"; reach a disarmament "detente" or relaxing of tensions with the Communist powers and spend our savings on economic aid to the non-western world.

"If these things happen, we can look forward to the future with a great deal of confidence," he concluded.

Dr. Harold A. Dunkelberger of the college faculty gave the invocation after an opening number by the college band. There were greetings from the college president, Gen. Willard S. Paul, and the college choir sang a number.

After Dr. Toynebee spoke, he was awarded the honorary degree and the program closed with the alma mater and the benediction which was pronounced by Dr. Dunkelberger.

Founder's Day at the college commemorates the act of the governor of Pennsylvania on April 7, 1832, signing into law the bill which transformed the Gettysburg Gymnasium into "a college for the education of youth in the learned languages, the arts, sciences and useful literature."

300 ATTEND GOP MEETING IN CASHTOWN

More than 300 persons were in attendance at the Adams County Republican Committee meeting at the Cashtown fire hall Thursday evening to hear Rep. George A. Goodling, of the 19th District give reasons why he voted for and against various legislative measures. H. Earl Pitzer, chairman of the Adams County Republican Committee, presided.

After each candidate for office had introduced himself, Pitzer introduced Clark E. Spence, a candidate for clerk of the courts; Daniel Wolff, candidate for county treasurer; Fred Renner, candidate for sheriff; and William Starry, candidate for clerk of the courts.

Congressman J. Irvin Walley, Franklin County, whose brother died earlier in the day in Philadelphia, was unable to attend.

SUBSIDIZED MEASURE

Goodling said he was one of two who voted against the depressed area bill because "it would build up too much hope, too many people would be expecting jobs which would never come about. The facilities in industry we now have can overproduce any product." Goodling said another reason he voted against it was because of the subsidized interest portion.

"People in the 19th District wouldn't get one penny of this money. I don't see how the area redevelopment bill can do much for us. I'm opposed to any give-away program."

Goodling said the reason he voted against the minimum wage

Countian's Truck In Hanover Crash

Philip G. Smith, 17, Hanover, was accused of failure to yield the right of way to oncoming traffic in an information filed by Hanover police with York County juvenile authorities after Smith's car collided with a truck at an intersection Thursday at 12:30 a.m. Police said the truck, owned by Leo A. Long, 112 S. Orange St., New Oxford, was operated by Glen Long, 32 Hanover. Damage to the truck was estimated by police at $300 and to the Smith car at $300.

Lt. Col. Eisenhower Gets Leave, No Pay

Lt. Col. John Eisenhower has been placed on leave without pay to help his father, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, "in sorting and reviewing the documents related to the Eisenhower administration."

Announcing this Thursday, the Defense Department said Col. Eisenhower requested the leave. It is unpaid and for an indefinite period. He is scheduled to attend the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks from August until June, 1962.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR MOOSE LODGE

Maurice W. Shindlecker, Chambersburg St., was elected governor of the local Moose lodge at its meeting Thursday night in the lodge home on York St.

Shindlecker has been a chef at the F. and T. Restaurant, York St., for many years and served as junior governor of the local Moose this year. He has been active in the Moose in a number of capacities over many years.

He and the other new officers will be installed April 20. He will take over office as governor on May 1 from John W. Sanders, who completes two terms at that time.

Henry M. Herring, Chambersburg St., who is serving as prelate and who is a past governor of the Moose, was elected junior governor. Archie Martin, Gettysburg R. 3, was elected prelate and Clifford Harmon, 229 Chambersburg St., another former governor of the lodge, was named treasurer.

Daniel P. Miller, N. Stratton St., a former governor, was elected to his second term as trustee.

Elected alternate delegate to the Supreme Lodge of Moose was Jacob A. Small, W. Middle, former governor. Under Moose lodge rules the incoming governor is automatically the delegate to the Supreme Lodge meetings.

Retiring Governor John W. Sanders, Secretary George W. Nangle and incoming Treasurer Clifford Harmon were elected delegates to the Pennsylvania Moose Association.

PLAN VARIED PROGRAM FOR BAND CONCERT

A varied program will be presented by the Gettysburg College Band Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Student Union Building under the direction of Douglas Danfelt.

Each of the first five selections will be taken from the five major periods of music history. The first will be a Renaissance Suite including "Pavane" by Gibbons; "Saltarello" by Ammerbach; and "Ricercare" by Gabrieli. The next selection will be "Sleepers' Wake" by Bach; "Impressario Overture" by Mozart; "Symphony No. 1 in Eb Major," Finale, Saint-Saens and "Pag-eant" by Persichetti.

Other selections before the intermission will be "Sea Songs March" by Vaughn Williams and the popular "Bugler's Holiday" by Trumpeters Bruce Crandall, Jesse Houck and Anthony Winch. An offering will be received during intermission.

The final portion of the program will include "Rochester March" by Farrall; "Prairie Overture" by Ward; "Contrasts" by Bottje; "March Onward" by Luthold; "Fandango" by Perkins and "Brass Aflame March" by Cacavas.

This evening the band will present a concert at 8 o'clock at the Northeastern Area High School at Manchester, Pa.

ULCW PLANNING FOR TRIENNIAL SESSION HERE

Participation of the Women of St. James Lutheran Church in the ninth triennial convention of the United Lutheran Church Women of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, to be held in Gettysburg April 27, 28 and 29, with St. James as the host church, was discussed at a meeting of the administrative committee and executive board Thursday evening. Mrs. C. C. Culp, president, conducted both sessions. Mrs. John S. Bishop was in charge of the devotional period.

Mrs. Harry E. Baker, who with Miss Irene Day co-chairman the housing committee, reported on the number of hostesses in Gettysburg and the county within a radius of 10 miles. She also told of parking arrangements and that she and Miss Day would underwrite the cost of bagged meters during the convention.

In the absence of Mrs. George Wolfe, reservations chairman, Mrs. Culp reported that more than 900 reservations for the banquet at the Gettysburg College dining hall the evening of April 28 have been made.

COMMITTEE DUTIES

The banquet committee includes Mrs. Herbert Lady, Ardenstville; Mrs. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville; Mrs. Robert Lau, East Berlin; and Mrs. Henry Early, McKnightstown; Mrs. Paul L. Reaser, Gettysburg; will be the song leader at the banquet with Mrs. O. D. Cobl, of Bendersville, as the accompanist.

Other committee personnel includes: Name tags, Mrs. Donald W. Fair, chairman; Mrs. John W. Schwartz, Miss Anne Shryock, Mrs. Wilbur A. Rudisill Jr. and Mrs. Almira Motaka, of St. Kames; and Mrs. H. W. Sternat, of Biglerville; registration of delegates and reservations for meals, Mrs. George J. Wolfe, Miss Rosea Armor and Mrs. Nevin C. Bush; housing, Miss Irene Day, Mrs. Harry E. ## WILLIAMS CO. IS OBSERVING ANNIVERSARY

The 15th anniversary of the C. E. Williams and Sons Company as the Gulf solar heat dealers in this area, will be observed this week.

Clyde E. Williams started in the coal business in this area in 1939 and was joined by his brother, Fred, in 1942 and became known as Williams Brothers. This partnership continued until 1946 when Gulf solar heat was added to the fuel business. In 1948 Clyde Williams Jr., joined his father in the coal and oil business and in 1953 excavating was added as another phase to the steadily expanding business.

In 1955 Ronald Williams joined his father and Clyde Jr. in the business and the firm name became C. E. Williams and sons. The senior partner who founded the firm passed away in April, 1959. Two months later, Bill Williams, guidance counselor and football coach at Gettysburg High School, joined the firm to assist in conducting the well established business.

Give Arion Award Tonight At Concert

The 1961 Arion award will be presented to a Senior member of the Gettysburg High School Senior Band by Samuel Scott, 1953 Arion award winner, tonight during the 10th annual instrumental "Night of Music."

The recipient of this award must have proven himself to be a person dedicated to music, to his fellow classmates and to his school by his attitude and willingness to serve, as well as his artistic advancement in the field of music.

Participating in the concert will be the GHS string orchestra, composed mainly of junior high school musicians under the direction of Neil Justice and the 75-piece junior band and 65-piece senior band directed by Robert G. Zeigler.

SHUGART SAYS ADULTS SET POOR EXAMPLE

"Our youngsters are being very maliciously misled by much of the talk about juvenile delinquency and a lot of people who are doing this should determine if they are pure enough to cast the first stone," Judge Dale W. Shugart, Carlisle told the Gettysburg High School Parent-Teacher Association at its meeting Thursday evening at the school.

"We are not going to help delinquency by talking about youngsters. Since the only way to educate is through example, we can do something about juvenile delinquency by doing something about adult delinquency. It disturbs me that we do little about adult crime, for it is growing as fast as juvenile delinquency."

"The power of example is tremendous to the young. And what do they see—a respected doctor killing his wife for a younger woman. A respected banker who sat in the front pew of the church found to have stolen a half million from his bank. A whole host of highly respected businessmen going to jail because they cheated the government on bids. Men in high positions in government, both federal and state, indicted for various crimes. This is a very serious thing for our young people. If we adults set this sort of example, how can we combat juvenile delinquency? THEY HAVE RIGHTS"

"The viewpoint of some amazes me. Some of the same people who would be first to cry out at any infringement on their civil rights scream that we are to get tough with juveniles. They have rights as well as adults. "I think we should also, when we speak about juvenile delinquency, confine ourselves to the youngsters who have committed some crime, who are legally delinquent. Just because he is a 'hell-raiser' in the neighborhood does not make a youth delinquent. "Adolescence is a time of testing. We need to help youth in their evolution into what they will become. We need to challenge them to participate in the better things of the community. And we need greatly to give them credit. (Continued On Page 9)

Eagles' Lodge To Nominate April 27

The Gettysburg Eagles lodge will nominate officers at its meeting April 27, President Lester L. Martin announced today.

Election of officers is scheduled for the May 11 meeting and installation of officers for June 8. All of the meetings will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Nominees for office must be present at the time of nomination or must have given written consent to accept nomination.

ADMITTED TO LEHIGH

Russia Drops More Rebels, Material In Vang Vieng, Laos

By JOHN RODERICK
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Four Soviet planes have dropped more rebel soldiers and material near the royal army headquarters at Vang Vieng north of this capital, a government spokesman said today.

The announcement contradicted earlier reports that the Communist Pathet Lao had given up an attempt to seize the headquarters, 80 miles from Vientiane.

Acting Information Minister Tiao Sopsaisana said he was unable to say how many rebels were dropped near Vang Vieng. But in a similar operation earlier this week, about 300 were dropped into the area.

The official said the information on the new drop came from Gen. Kourprasth Abhay, commander in the area, who was expected to be able to handle the situation.

The general reported Thursday

2 Leaders Fear Crisis Between West And Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan reportedly fear the development of a series of crises between the Western powers and the Soviet Union this year.

The views are reported to prevail in spite of encouraging progress recently made toward agreement on a cease-fire in the civil war in Laos.

A generally somber outlook for East-West relations emerges from information made available by U. S. and British officials on the discussions of the two allied leaders here during the past two days. The talks were recessed today while Macmillan flies to Boston for an address at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A final session of the two men and their advisors will be held at the White House Saturday morning after which they plan to issue what one official called a business-like statement on the range of their discussions.

LAUD FOSTER PARENTS FOR THEIR SERVICE

Foster parents who open their homes to unfortunate children in Adams County came in for special praise at the annual dinner meeting of the Adams County Child Welfare Services Thursday evening at St. Paul's United Church of Christ in New Oxford.

The parents, who were present as honored guests, were lauded by county commissioners, by Dr. Vernard Group, chairman of the advisory board who served as toastmaster for the evening, and by Mrs. John Naugle, chief case worker.

Guest speaker was Paul E. King, Littlestown public school supervising principal who makes a hobby of beekeeping. He talked about bees and their handling.

Fifty-four persons attended the annual affair and the group included, in addition to the foster parents, the county commissioners, members of the advisory board and their wives and husbands and other special guests.

GOING TO CIRCUS

Dr. Group said of the voluntary service rendered by the foster parents: "Such service by foster parents in opening their homes and giving of their time and interest for the benefit of children is evidence that they have not 'forgotten our obligation to be concerned about our neighbor and to be our brother's keeper.' He also spoke in appreciation of the (Continued On Page 9)

Delone High PTA Will Meet Sunday

The semiannual general meeting of the Delone Catholic High School PTA will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the cafeteria of the school at McSherrystown, Rev. Fr. William R. Lyons, principal of the school, has announced.

The program will include an open forum where "parents are provided an opportunity to speak out on any matters of interest to the association," and election of officers of the PTA for the coming year.

ADMITTED TO LEHIGH

Kenneth P. Hull Jr., 37 N. Howard Ave., and a student at Gettysburg High School, is among those who are attending the first of two candidate's days at Lehigh University, Bethlehem. Hull is one of the students offered admission to next fall's freshman class at the university.

COUNTY FIRE CHIEFS PLAN FOR C-D TEST

Preliminary plans for a county-wide and nationwide public participation Civil Defense test April 28 were outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Fire Chiefs' Association at Fountaindale.

Past Fire Chief President Francis L. Linn, representing County Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver, said a meeting will be held April 17 at 7:30 o'clock at the courthouse for all fire chiefs and Civil Defense personnel of the county to go over the final plans for the event.

The county will join the nation in a public test of the Civil Defense alarm system from 4 to 4:10 o'clock on the afternoon of April 28. Radio stations are scheduled to go on Conrad during the period and the public will be asked to take cover during the test.

PLANS ON MAJOR FIRES

In addition all county Civil Defense organizations will be assigned a "command post exercise" at which they will work out plans to meet a problem sent them by state CD headquarters. The exercise will be held at the engine house here starting at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of April 28.

Following a discussion on whether a standard system should be set up which would provide for certain companies to be automatically assigned to various "cover up" assignments where fire companies are called out on major fires, it was decided to continue the present system of having the chief at the scene of the fire call for such companies as he wishes to "cover" for his own company when it is away at a blaze. Conditions vary too much from fire to fire to permit setting up an "automatic" system it was decided.

Charles Bretzman, assistant Bendersville fire chief, expressed the appreciation of his company to the other companies in the county for their assistance at the Peach Glen Knouse Foods blaze.

CALLS FROM MEETING

The chiefs agreed to suggest to all companies that they inform the operator at the main Firemen's-CD radio station in the enginehouse here when they are (Continued On Page 9)

CRUSADE KITS ARE GIVEN TO 900 WORKERS

Kits for 900 solicitors for the annual crusade of the Adams County Cancer Society were distributed Thursday evening to 34 chairmen from throughout the county at a "kick-off" dinner at the Methodist Church here.

Mrs. Doris Swenson, field representative of the Pennsylvania division of the American Cancer Society; Attorney John A. MacPhail, president of the county society; and N. Thomas Washburn and Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, co-chairmen for the current campaign, told about the work of the society and the campaign which will start Monday.

The county unit will seek $10,100 in the drive to aid cancer sufferers and provide information to permit individuals to detect cancer in its early stages when it is most curable.

PLAN JOINT MEETING

It was announced that the service clubs of the community will hold a joint meeting April 17 at Gettysburg High School at which Dr. Roland Leob, president of the Pennsylvania Division of the American Cancer Society, will be the speaker. President MacPhail said the dinner session will be open to the general public as well as the service club members.

The material given the chairmen for their canvasses included 15,000 copies of leaflets giving information on cancer and its cure plus as many leaflets outlining the work of the county cancer society.

It was announced for Mr. and Mrs. William G. Shoemaker, chairman of the industrial and organization solicitation, that this year the canvass will be made direct from Gettysburg and contributions received will then be credited to the town or township in which the industry or organization is located. Previously the donations were lumped under industrial and organization donations.

WHITE HOUSE GREETING

Mrs. Zolomba Umbel, 155 Hanover St., who observed her 87th birthday anniversary on March 1, this week received a birthday greeting from President and Mrs. Kennedy. Mrs. Umbel is the mother of Mrs. Raymond Bisbing, also of 155 Hanover St.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—John S. Rice, former secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and chairman of the Democratic State Committee, was sworn in today as U. S. ambassador to the Netherlands.

Rice was sworn in by protocol chief Angier Biddle Duke at a ceremony attended by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rice plans to leave for the Netherlands April 27. He succeeds Philip Young as U. S. ambassador at the Hague.

STUDIED FOR YEAR

Such a change has been discussed for approximately a year, and much study has been put into the proposed new occupation assessment list. If it passes it will provide much additional work for both the assessors and the commissioners. With an entirely new schedule for occupation assessments, the assessors will have to go over names of every taxpayer in their districts to assign him or her to the proper place in the new assessment schedule. Normally, the only changes made in the occupation assessment each year by the assessors are those caused by persons changing occupation or new persons being added to the roles who must be assessed according to occupation. The majority of the occupation assessments normally remain the same year after year.

And because most people of the county will have some change in their occupation assessment if the new schedule is adopted, all who have a change will have a right to appeal. The commissioners anticipate a number of appeals. Because of the large numbers involved, it can be anticipated that some will be put into the wrong categories. Miss Bosserman is the daughter of Lewis M. Bosserman, the principal of the Ardenstville Elementary School of the Upper Adams District and Mrs. Bosserman. She is active in school activities, taking part in intramural sports, Tri-Hi-Y, Junior and Senior National Honor Societies, "B" Club, band, choir, B-Hi Times news editor, co-editor of the yearbook, secretary of the student council and is also active in Girl Scout and church work in her community.

Selected as third on a list of six alternates for the SICO scholarships is Bonnie E. Keefe, Gettysburg High School Senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Keefe, Gettysburg R. 5. Misses Bosserman and Keefe are the only Adams Countians on the list of six winners and six alternates.

LARGE CROWD AT CONCERT

A large crowd attended the second concert in a series of three, sponsored by the Gettysburg Concert Association Thursday evening in Christ Chapel, Gettysburg College, presented by Elisabeth Schwarzkopf, world renowned soprano, whose artistry and mastery of voice few have equaled in the world. John Wustman was at the piano.

The program included the following selections: "Music for a While" and "What Can We Poor Females Do?" by Purcell; "Se tu m'ami," by Pergolesi; "Einem Bach der fließt," by Gluck; "My Father" (from "Hercules") by Handel; "An di Musik," "Der Einsame," "Auf dem Wasser zu singen," "Die Voegel," and "Rosamunde," by Schubert; "Del vien non tardar," and "vo che sapete" (from "The Marriage of Figaro") by Mozart.

Following a 15-minute intermission Miss Schwarzkopf sang "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak; "To the Children," Rachmaninoff; "Pastorale," by Zizet; "War es ein Traum," by Sibelius; "Kennst du das Land," "In dem Schatten meiner Locken" and "Die Zigeunerin," by Wolf; and she finished with "Waldseligkeit" and "Schlechtes Wetter," by Strauss.

PLEDGED TO FRAT

He is president of the Sophomore class, a member of the student council and affiliated with WMUH, campus radio station. He is a graduate of Gettysburg High School.

NEW SCHEDULE ON OCCUPATION LEVIES READY

The Adams County commissioners Thursday afternoon took what may prove to be final steps in preparation of a new occupation assessment schedule for the county.

Meeting at the courthouse house with their attorney, Charles W. Wolf, and chief assessor and assistant, D. Walker Woods and Henry Hersh, the commissioners discussed the proposed new schedule, how it would affect assessments, and the legal steps necessary to enact a new law setting up an occupation assessment schedule to replace the one the county has used for a century.

At 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon the commissioners decided to schedule the matter for formal adoption at their meeting next Wednesday.

NURSES MEET ON WEDNESDAY

The drive for new members was extended and plans were discussed for local observance of Pennsylvania Nurses' Week May 7 to 13 at the meeting of the Nurses' Association Tuesday evening in the board room of the Chambersburg Hospital. The president, Mrs. Virginia Myers, Chambersburg, presided.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the association before the general meeting, 10 directors went over the proposed revised copy of association by-laws.

The nurses at their general meeting directed that the revised by-laws be sent to state association headquarters at Harrisburg for approval.

Mrs. Rosa Stoner, Gettysburg, reported for the membership drive committee that 13 new members have been enrolled. It was decided to continue the campaign for new members. The appointment of Mrs. Hilda Lime-weaver, Chambersburg, as general chairman of the American Nurses' Foundation of Research, and the selection of Miss Jean Anthony, Littlestown, as local chairmen were announced.

The evening's program was a film strip titled "To Smoke or Not to Smoke" which was presented by A. M. Strickler, chairman of the cancer crusade in Franklin County. Twenty-six nurses and two guests attended the meeting.

The Chambersburg members served refreshments afterwards.

BHS CHOIR TO GIVE CONCERT

The 70-voice Biglerville Senior High School choir will present a sacred concert Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Bendersville Lutheran Church.

The program will open with "Open the Gates of the Temple," by Knapp; "Calvary," arranged by Townsend; "Were You There?" arranged by Noble Cain and "Who Crucified My Lord?" by Belcher.

A girls' trio comprised of Carolyn Musselman, Carol Bosserman, and Mary Griest will sing "God So Loved the World" by Stainer. A boys' quartet comprising Thomas Osborn, William Bucher, Walter Roberts and John Shepherd will sing "Up From the Grave He Arose" by Hall.

Following "O Bono Jesu" arranged by Ehret, "Arise O God and Show Thy Might" by Morgan and "O Rejoice, Ye Christians, Loudly" by Bach, Carolyn Musselman will sing a soprano solo, "Alleluia" by Mozart.

The program will conclude with "Hallelujah, Amen" by Handel; "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by Wilbousky and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" by Lutkin.

Pianists will be Pamela Wentzel and Beverly Elicker.

Sues Coldsmith For $1,800 Claim

James H. Showvaker, Littlestown R. 1, has brought an assumption suit in Adams County court against Roy E. Coldsmith, 150 York St., claiming Coldsmith has not paid him for part of the labor he provided on a house built by Coldsmith at the corner of Howard Ave. and Princess St.

According to the complaint filed by Showvaker by Atty. Walter Katherman, Coldsmith and Showvaker entered into an agreement August 31, 1960, by which Showvaker would do certain masonry work in connection with the new home for $1,800.

Showvaker said he was paid the $1,800 but alleges that he did additional work which he values at $713.25 for which he says he was not paid.

Showvaker alleges that on September 6 Coldsmith orally asked him to provide labor for construction of a rear porch in stone; on September 15 orally asked him to construct two fireplaces of stone and construct a foyer wall and flower box and on September 22 asked him to construct a garage pier in stone. Showvaker alleges all of the work asked after the contract is in addition to the work he agreed to do for $1,800 under the terms of the contract.

GOING TO CONFERENCE

John W. Basehore will represent the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce at the second annual governor's traffic safety conference to be held at Harrisburg May 3, C. of C. President Julian Estep announced today.

Basehore is a member of the highways committee of the Chamber. He was selected by Estep in conference with Julius Swope, chairman of the highways committee.

BURY MRS. OHLER

Funeral services were held from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, Thursday afternoon for Mrs. Emma Alice Ohler, 96, 320 W. Main St., Emmitsburg, who died Tuesday. Rev. Philip Bower officiated and interment was in the Keysville Cemetery. The pallbearers were Maurice Moser, John Baumgardner, Robert A. Grimes, Jones Baker, Lloyd Ohler and Chester Ohler.

Mrs. Mary Fridinger, president of the American Legion Auxiliary No. 202, announced the monthly meeting will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the post home, Baltimore St. Final plans will be made for the rummage sale April 14 and 15. A social hour will follow the meeting and there will be a program. The refreshments will be served by Mrs. Ethel Dickert and Mrs. Pearl Wiser. An auction will be held by the ways and means committee, with Mrs. Betty Buntene, chairman. Anything pertaining to flowers, plants and bulbs will be auctioned. Each member is reminded to bring an article for the sale. All members and officers are urged to be present.

The Marsh Creek Homemakers' club met at the West St. branch of the Gettysburg National Bank Wednesday night with Mrs. Harold Day and Mrs. William Teeter as the instructors on "Creative Stitchery." Mrs. Allen Weikert, president, presided at the business meeting and Mrs. Gyon E. Buehler, sunshine committee, reported that Easter cards were sent to two women in the township who were ill. Mrs. Weikert reminded the women of the County Homemakers' Day to be held April 26 in the Cashtown hall and a family picnic was discussed for August 19 at the home of Mrs. H. M. Wagner. Mrs. Day and Mrs. Teeter discussed plans for the club's entry in the Table Fashions Tea to be held at the County Club on April 14. The next meeting will be in the form of a covered dish supper, May 8, at the home of Mrs. Wagner at 6:30 o'clock. Members are asked to bring their own table service. The president appointed a nominating committee, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Arthur B. Boenau and Mrs. Charles F. Doersom. Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Hostetter.

Adams County home economist Mrs. Helen D. Tunison today announced that Adams County homemakers under 30 years of age are invited to attend a series of discussion and workshop meetings on "Manage Your Way to a Better Day." The first class will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the YWCA. The topic will be "Let's Look at Today's World," and an introduction to time planning.

Circle One of the ULCW of Christ Lutheran Church will meet in the Parish house Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Arne Nielsen will speak on the Lutheran Church in Denmark and show a film. Mrs. Carl Rasmussen will conduct the devotions.

Lt. Jack W. Kunkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kunkel, Howard Ave., has returned to Ft. Lee, Va., where he is attending eight weeks in Quartermaster School. After graduation he will report to France with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Mrs. P. J. McGlynn, Biglerville, will entertain the Bandar Log Club on Tuesday evening at her home.

The Mother's Club of St. Francis Xavier School met Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Xavier Hall with the president, Mrs. Edward Kress, presiding. The meeting opened with a prayer. It was decided that on May 4 the club will drive to the shrine at Mt. St. Mary's, Emmitsburg, and will return to Xavier Hall for their monthly meeting. President Kress reported a $50 profit at the bake sale and thanked those who helped to make it a success. A merchandise club will be held at the Carol Ann Shoppe and payments will start May 15. Anyone interested in joining are asked to call Mrs. Kress. A spring rummage sale will be held in Xavier Hall May 5 and 6. Persons are asked to bring their articles the day before. ## CONGO FORCES ON C-RATIONS ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The U.N. leader in Elisabethville was down to C-rations and just a little fresh food today.

A U.N. spokesman said sellers of bread and other fresh foods still were carrying on the economic war Katanga President Moise Tshombe ordered Tuesday after his troops' attempt to take full control of the Elisabethville Airport failed.

U.N. officials said Tshombe, at a conference Wednesday with Gen. Sean McKeown, the U.N. military chief in the Congo, agreed to suspend the economic sanctions against the 1,000 U.N. troops and civilian employees. But Tshombe issued no orders to his people to that effect, and many still observed the boycott.

RETURN ELECTRIC POWER
Water and electric power, switched off for two days, have been returned to most U.N. establishments.

Telephones have been connected again in the U.N. headquarters. But shops and restaurants are still refusing to sell to U.N. troops and they still are not admitted to any hotels.

WILL DEBATE SCHOOL ISSUE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A formal discussion on the mounting controversy over including private schools in the federal aid to education program has been agreed upon by two church leaders, a Roman Catholic and a Lutheran.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Frederick G. Hochwalt, director of the Department of Education of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, said Thursday night a discussion by a selected group of men and sponsored by "some great foundation" could eliminate some misunderstandings arising from the question.

Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffmann, director of information of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, agreed that such a discussion might clear the air, but disagreed that federal aid should be granted to private schools.

The seminar was proposed by Msgr. Hochwalt on a television program — CBS "Face the Nation."

Scouts Work For Camp Equipment

Boy Scout Troop 160, sponsored by Christ Lutheran Church, Saturday afternoon will begin a month-long program by which the Scouts hope to raise funds toward purchase of tents and other camping equipment.

The Scouts will seek to interest persons in having their Social Security numbers placed in a metal "Social Security Card." Cost of the metal card will be $1. The Scouts will take orders and then deliver the "card" when it is completed.

Visit American Jailed In Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Howard Anderson, an American businessman held incommunicado for three weeks, was visited Thursday by an official of the Swiss Embassy.

The official reported the former Seattle, Wash., resident "is in very good shape." The charges against Anderson never have been announced.

Anderson, whose wife lives in Miami, Fla., operates a number of service stations in Cuba. The Swiss official said on his visit he also interviewed August MacNair of Miami, arrested March 19 with four Cubans. Authorities accused them of trying to land arms from a small craft. It is understood all five will be charged with counterrevolutionary activities.

HOUSE BILL WOULD COST ADAMS $32,000

Adams County school districts will lose $32,000 a year in state payments if a bill now before the legislature passes.

Wednesday the House Education Committee reported out a bill which would end closed school subsidies as of May 1, 1962. The bill is similar to one attempted in 1959 but which that time failed to get out of the House committee. If the bill passes it will end $200-a-year payments made for closed schools. Adams County has 164 such schools.

The amounts now received by the various districts which would disappear if the bill passes the House and Senate and is signed by the governor follow:

Abbotstown, $200; Arendtsville, $400; Bendersville, $200; Berwick Twp., $600; Biglerville, $400; Butler Twp., $1,800; Conewago Independent, $200; Conewago Twp., $200; Cumberland Twp., $1,800; East Berlin, $400; Fairfield, $400; Franklin Twp., $3,000; Freedom Twp., $600; Germany Twp., $1,000; Hamilton Twp., $800; Hamilton Twp., $2,600; Highland Twp., $800; Huntingdon Twp., $1,600; Latimore Twp., $800; Liberty Twp., $1,200; Littlestown, $400; McSherrystown, $200; Meallen Twp., $2,800; Mount Joy Twp., $1,400; Mount Pleasant Twp., $2,200; New Oxford, $400; Oxford Twp., $600; Reading Twp., $1,000; Straban Twp., $1,800; Tyrone Twp., $1,600; Union Twp., $1,400. Total, $32,800 for 164 schools.

bill was because it proposed to take in retailers. He said that he thinks it is the function of state governments to regulate retail businesses. The bill was defeated by one vote.

The congressman voted against the feed grain bill because "no Pennsylvania farmer would benefit from it, all the aid goes to the central states, west and south."

Goodling said he will introduce legislation soon in Congress on education. He said the cost of his bill will add nothing to the individual taxpayer, "it will come out of the income tax that is already paid."

Mrs. Grace Lynn, state district administrator of Young Republicans of Pennsylvania, spoke briefly about the philosophy of the party and asked those who were interested in organizing a Young Republican Club to meet with her after the session.

State Committeeman Fred G. Pfeffer and vice president Elva Group also spoke briefly. It was announced that the Adams County council of Republican Women will sponsor a "Meet the Candidates" meeting April 19 at 8 p.m. in the courthouse. Mary Howe provided music. Refreshments were served.

JAIL PARENTS OF ABUSED GIRL

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—The parents of a 13-year-old girl were sentenced Thursday to 60 days in jail for locking their daughter in a bedroom for more than six years, letting her out only to go to school.

"It seems hard to conceive of any excuse," Superior Court Judge Gilbert L. Perry told the parents, Elmer Kensing, 46, a coin dealer, and his wife, Ruby, 36.

Police, who investigated last month when the girl, Joyce Elaine, refused to go home from school, found her room furnished with only an iron bed. The door to the bathroom had been nailed shut and a window nailed down.

Joyce told police she was not allowed out to play with the other four Kensing children, and in six years she had eaten only two meals with the rest of the family. Kensing said Joyce was punished for "sassing her mother."

HOME-COMING ON SUNDAY AT FOUNTAINDALE

The 104th anniversary and home-coming of the Wesley Chapel Methodist Church at Fountaindale will be observed Sunday. There will be morning, afternoon and evening services featuring guest speakers and special music.

The morning service, which begins at 9 a.m., will be conducted by the guest minister, the Rev. Kenneth R. Bonham, pastor of the Gatchellville-Cross Roads charge of the Methodist Church at New Park, Pa. Special music will be provided by the Wesley Chapel Choir.

Afternoon services, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, will be mainly of a musical nature with special numbers being offered by the mixed quartet of the Welty Church of the Brethren from Greensburg, Md. Mrs. Rosie Gladhill, Fairfield; Creston Bumbaugh, Rouzer-ville, and David Monn, Mont Alto, will offer solos at this service. Mrs. Raymond Shulley and Creston Bumbaugh will sing a duet and the church choir will participate.

Rev. Norman L. Marden, pastor of the Bendersville charge of the Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker for the 7:30 evening service. Vocal duets will be offered by Eugene Cline of Charman and Raymond Gilland of Greestone. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Cline at the organ. Mrs. Mary Messner, Highfield, will do the solo work for the evening service.

The women of the Wesley Chapel Church will provide refreshments for both lunch and dinner for all of those who desire to remain for the full day's activities. This observance is the yearly highlight for Christian fellowship both for those now actively participating as members of the congregation and for those persons who have been connected with this church during the past years. Rev. James E. Barnes is the host pastor.

LISTS SPRAYS FOR APPLES

Adams County Farm Agent Frank S. Zettle has announced two apple spray schedules in letters to Adams County fruit growers for green tip and delayed dormant.

One schedule suggests starting the green tip spray when the first small leaf on Stayman shows one-eighth of its tip separated from the bud.

Schedule Two suggests starting the delayed dormant spray when the leaves are one-half inch long. Research has shown the earlier the oil-phosphate-fungicide is applied after leaf growth starts, the less the danger of fruit russeting, the chief reason for the earlier start with high finish Schedule One, Zettle wrote.

Growers are advised to read the discussion on Pages 10 and 14 of the 1961 apple and peach spray schedule for further information and for the materials to use.

Growers using Schedule One should follow a delayed dormant fungicide in five or six days and not earlier than four days after the oil-phosphate fungicide spray. Sulfur should be added in midweek problem blocks, he said.

"THE GRAND FINALE"

This is the lonely sequel... the aftermath of love... this is the plaintive hour... when stars fall from above... this is the cold, the sorrow... tears, like September rain... promise without fulfillment... heartache's dreary pain... this is the time for memory... to brighten up the night... spanning the ancient bridge of yore... trying to find delight... this is the single sojourn... clouded by broken dreams... and other apparitions... that my destiny deems... this is the grand finale... moment that had to be... time alone knows the answer... what will become of me?

BOB KENNEDY ASKS LAWS TO BATTLE CRIME

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, in his first Justice Department news conference, has called for eight powerful new laws to help curb organized crime.

The youthful attorney general said he was confident that "we will get some action on these bills" from Congress.

A record 174 newsmen, tops for a Justice Department conference, overflowed Kennedy's large reception room into adjacent offices Thursday.

In a wide-ranging, sometimes humorous discussion, they heard Kennedy touch, among other matters, on: Businessmen's ethics, juvenile delinquency, the deportation of a New Orleans racketeer figure, the John Birch Society and organized crime.

Kennedy, 35, a brother of the President, did not provide specific details of how he planned to operate against organized crime. But, he asserted: "It is my firm belief that new laws are needed to give the FBI increased jurisdiction to assist local authorities in the common battle against the rackets."

The new laws he has asked Congress to approve include five years imprisonment and $10,000 fines for interstate travel "to advance illegal activities." "More and more," Kennedy said, "the bankrollers and king pins of the rackets live luxurious, apparently respectable lives in one state, but return periodically to another state to collect from the rackets they run by remote control."

FIREARMS REGULATIONS Kennedy also called for: Punishment for persons intimidating or injuring anyone cooperating in a federal investigation. (Present law only protects witnesses called in judicial or congressional investigations.)

Stiff new firearms regulations. The five other new laws requested by Kennedy were proposed in one form or another by his predecessor, William P. Rogers. They deal with stopping the flow of gambling information and equipment across state lines and broadening federal power in some other areas.

GAME ON APRIL 19

The Delone-Kennard Dale baseball game, originally announced for Thursday, has been re-scheduled for April 19 at McSherrystown. Today Delone opens its season at Bermudian Springs.

Rector Sculptures Cover For His Baptismal Font

Rev. Fr. J. Harold Mowen, rector of the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church, Baltimore St., has adopted a new hobby which he is pursuing with considerable vigor and, he hopes, "with beneficial and spiritual results."

The local clergyman has taken up sculpturing at Gettysburg College and the first major project of his efforts is intended to be the bronze cover of the church's baptismal font.

Every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 until 5 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Mowen works diligently at the art school under the watchful eyes of Prof. Ingolf Qually, head of the art department, and Norman Annis. He has made so much progress during the past four years that he has now completing the model for the cover of the font which will be cast in bronze when completed.

Rev. Father Mowen is shown working on his model. The figures below represent the four sides of the cover which will be approximately 10 inches high and 15 inches in diameter.

The four sides represent in order: "Nicodemus talking with Our Lord," "Our Lord embracing children," "Baptism of our Lord at the hands of John, the Baptist," and "The ancient symbols of Christ (the Chi Rho and Alpha and Omega)." The model is now in the plaster stage.

3 ASTRONAUTS GET NEW TESTS

JOHNSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The three Project Mercury astronauts are undergoing intensive refresher tests on a giant centrifuge at the naval air development center here as the time nears to select one for a flight into space.

The astronauts began the three-day tests Thursday. They climbed into the cockpit of the centrifuge, a gondola on the end of a 40-foot arm, for their fourth series of simulated space flights.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the workouts expose the astronauts to the same acceleration forces one of them will face when he blasts off in a capsule atop a Redstone rocket. The rocket will be fired some 100 miles high in a nonorbital 16-minute flight several hundred miles downrange from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The current tests do not constitute any brand new phase of testing.

TEXAS RELAYS START TODAY

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Relays, with records likely in half of the 40-odd events, open today with Olympians Earl Young, Stone Johnson and Eddie Southern featured in the first session.

Preliminaries were scheduled in 20 events this afternoon with finals in a like number tonight.

Young, the Abilene Christian sprint ace who was on the winning United States 1600-meter relay team at Rome last year, will appear with the 440-yard relay team that's expected to wipe out the Texas Relays mark of 40.1. He also will be in other relay stints.

Johnson, the Grambling flash who placed in the Olympic Games 200 meters, and Southern, the former Texas star who was a 400-can and National AAU champion, was stricken with virus pneumonia and his doctor said he definitely will not compete.

Defending champion Penn State, Southern Illinois and Michigan move into top contention with Illinois' loss of Holmes.

Opening preliminaries will be the basis for determining the all-around title, to be decided tonight. The other finals will be Saturday afternoon.

Some 30 schools have entered 150 athletes in the meet.

Girl Scout News

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 44 visited at the Pope's Convalescent Home on Saturday. Each girl presented a patient with an Easter hat and John Doersom played the organ while the girls distributed Easter baskets. He also accompanied the girls while they sang hymns. The girls are also taking a six-week course in first-aid, Mrs. Philip Hughes, registered nurse, is their instructor. The troop is participating in GAA at the local high school to earn athletic badges. The regular meeting of the troop was held Thursday afternoon at the Girl Scout office when the girls practiced wrapping bandages. The leaders present were Mrs. Arthur Phiel and Mrs. Walter Johnson.

Girl Scout Troop 42 met Wednesday afternoon in the Girl Scout office with Linda Bream, vice president, in charge. Mrs. Hardy Nichols discussed the Girl Scout Council. Plans were made for the primitive camping trip later this spring. Leaders were Mrs. Ralph Bream and Mrs. Ralph Moose.

FREED YANKEE IS IN MANILA; LIFE IS EBBING

MANILA (AP)—Robert McCann was flown to Clark Air Base today on his journey back to the United States to die after spending 10 years in a Red Chinese prison.

The former businessman from Pasadena, Calif., ravaged by cancer, was rushed to the U.S. Air Force Hospital at the base north of Manila on arriving from Hong Kong. Arrangements for his flight on to the United States were not complete.

McCann's wife, who traveled 9,000 miles to Tientsin to plead with the Chinese Communists for her husband's release, said the doctors in Hong Kong had given her husband "only a few days to live."

"NO HOPE" "The end can come any day," she said. "There is no hope."

McCann, 60, seemed no great pain as he was carried on a stretcher from the Air Force transport that brought him from Hong Kong. The cancer that started in his lungs has riddled his entire body and reached his brain.

Mrs. McCann said that since she first saw her husband last Thursday, she had not discussed with him the vague charges of espionage on which the Communists sentenced him in 1951 to 15 years in prison.

"The matter is now of minor importance," she said.

FINAL INSPECTION NEAR

The meeting at the courthouse Thursday followed a session at the new county home where the commissioners discovered that work is "just about completed." Some cabinets remain to be completed in the bedrooms, but it was anticipated that work may be done today. Grading was underway Thursday and the commissioners expect that the new home will be ready soon for the board of viewers named by the court to make their inspection. After final approval by the court, the county will take over the building and pay off the contractors.

A visit to a number of the election houses Wednesday afternoon resulted in decisions to put new stoves in the Straban and Oxford Twp. election houses. The commissioners recommended that a "one-way traffic system" be set up for election day at the Straban Twp. polling places. Cars pull into the election house there from both sides and then there is difficulty in leaving the building.

BURY C. R. MOTTER

Funeral services were held from Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, Wednesday afternoon for Charles R. Motter Sr., 69, of 209 E. Main St., Emmitsburg, who died at the Warner Hospital Saturday. Rev. Philip Bower officiated and interment was in Mt. View Cemetery, Emmitsburg. The pallbearers were Joseph Motter, Robert Motter, Charles Motter Jr., George D. Motter, William Wilkinson and Gilmore Needy.

meter hurdles second-place winner in the 1956 Olympics, will oppose each other in a special 100-meter dash tonight. Ralph Alspaugh, Texas sprint great, and Dave Styron of Southern Illinois, also will be in this event. More than 1,200 athletes will be in the two-day track and field meet, with 307 from 22 schools competing in the university class where Abilene Christian is figured to be the top winner.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

War Bride Of Countess Here;

One Delayed: Only one of the two overseas brides who were scheduled to arrive in Adams county last week was aboard ship when the vessels reached U. S. ports last Friday, the Red Cross said today.

The bride of Charles E. Crawford, Abbotstown R. 1, whom the former Army T-5 married while stationed in England, arrived as scheduled. When Mrs. Antonietta Kuykendall, wife of Oliver W. Kuykendall Jr., Gettysburg R. D., failed to arrive aboard the S. S. Algonquin from Naples, Italy, the local Red Cross queried New York military and Red Cross authorities.

From them the county chapter learned Saturday afternoon that Mrs. Kuykendall Jr., along with a number of other Italian brides on their way to the U. S., had to remain in Italy when the ship sailed because of crowded conditions.

Recreation Board Seeks New

Donations: The Gettysburg Recreation Board Saturday sent letters to 36 local organizations seeking funds for the forthcoming playground season and at the same time asked voluntary donations by parents, or any others who may wish to give.

"Our purpose this year is to provide one or more tennis courts to be used by the young people of this community and for this reason, we are seeking your support," the letter pointed out.

While the borough provides funds for the payment of supervisors and the school board donates the ground for the play center, all equipment is purchased and repairs made from funds donated by local residents and organizations. Elmer W. Warren, chairman of the recreation board, said.

1,000 Members Of Moose And

Women Meet: Nearly 1,000 members of the Moose and the Women of the Moose jammed the local lodge home Sunday for regional meetings of both organizations. J. Jack Stoehr, Steubenville, Ohio, regional director of the Moose Association for Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, urged the Moose to continue their policy of taking part in all community activities and urged that each local lodge increase its service to its own borough.

Ike Deplores End Of Draft: Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told Congress today that nobody—military experts or lawmakers alike—knows how many men the armed forces will be short if the draft expires.

"No one can possibly forecast exactly how short our requirements will be; but everyone I have heard agrees we will be short," the army chief of staff told the Senate Military committee.

The Senate group has agreed to vote tomorrow on the administration's request for a one-year extension of Selective Service beyond the expiration date of May 15. General Eisenhower's reappearance before the group pointed up the extension request.

Bronze Star For H. S. Swope:

Howard F. Swope, Gettysburg R. 4, who was discharged from the army on January 24, has received notice he has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for heroic action in Germany.

The citation reads: "Sgt. Howard F. Swope, 823rd Tank Destroyer Battalion, United States Army, is awarded the Bronze Star for heroic achievement in action on October 11, 1944, in Germany. Sergeant Swope distinguished himself while manning a gun position to repel a threatened enemy armored attack."

Today's Talk

OUR FAULTS

Robert Louis Stevenson, writing of Walt Whitman, said that "no one can appreciate Whitman's excellencies until he has grown accustomed to his faults."

I have thought much of this sentence in its bearing upon those whom we call our friends. How much we lose through criticism and faultfinding when it comes to our friends. Faults they have, of course—even as you and I!

But if we become accustomed to the faults of our friend—and then start right in looking for and wonderful qualities, which he, or she, surely possesses, in lesser or greater degree, we keep our friend as a great asset in times both sad and glad.

Defects in a human being have a way of hiding under cover of much love and understanding.

How often we meet a person whose face would win no prize in a beauty contest and to whom we paid little attention at first—only to find upon taking a journey into that heart, that we have discovered a gold mine, a haven where we may find comfort and cheer during storm times, and a man or a woman who thereafter seems most beautiful to us in face because of this reflected inner beauty.

Of course our faults at times get pretty much in the way, even for us who own them! But even with us, the worst thing we can do is to pay too much attention to them—for the best possible way to correct a fault is to get as far away from it as you can.

But with those whom we love, let us not train our eyes and attention on fault-finding.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Before One Knows"

THE MAN OF SIXTY

"I'm sixty years of age," said he,

"and so I have to go;

This job is for a younger man;

I've grown a trifle slow;

They want a youth who hasn't learned the things I've come to know.

"O, I am wise in sorrow now; I know how close are tears;

I know the joy that is worth while;

the false when it appears.

The man or woman learns a lot who lives through sixty years.

I'm far more tolerant than I was;

I'm not so quick to blame;

I've cast my prejudice away, my temper doesn't flame.

And burn the way it used to do when youth was mine to claim.

"I have acquired in sixty years the calm which age bestows.

I know what disappointment is and how it comes and goes.

I've also learned not very much divides our friends and foes.

"But this is wisdom, I presume, that business cannot use.

At sixty love for constant strife

a man is apt to lose;

And so to keep a faster pace

BLACK HAWKS

STANLEY CUP

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — You'd have thought the Chicago Black Hawks had lost and the Detroit Red

Wing had won.

There was a sharp contrast in the aftermath of the Hawks' 3-2 victory Thursday night in the opening game of the National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals in Chicago Stadium.

The best-of-seven series, the first all-United States cup final in 19 years, shifts to Detroit ice

Saturday night.

1ST PERIOD GOALS

Chicago, who conquered the champion Montreal Canadiens in six games in the semifinals, scored all of its goals in the first period before 15,438 raving fans.

They all came in the first 14 minutes, Bobby Hull flicking in two goals and Kenny Wharram

the other.

"Maybe, that 3-0 lead lulled us into becoming too defensively minded," said Hawk Coach Rudy Pilouski afterward. "We passed up too many chances. We've got to skate harder and check harder.

We played too carefully and Detroit took the play away from us.

Red Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk was replaced by Hank Bassen at

Sawchuk collided with Hawk Murray Balfour and re-injured a

He may not be able to play Sat-

DEFENSIVE ACE

Also doubtful is Detroit's ace

defenseman, Marcel Pronovost, who has a bruised right ankle and saw only limited duty.

The Red Wings first goal came late in the second period when

Len Lundie took a pass from Gor-

past Glen Hall.

Detroit scored its second goal in the final minute of the third period when Allan Johnson poked in a seven-footer after Hall had kicked out a shot by Howe.

Chicago players had little to say as they peeled off their uniforms.

There was much more liveliness

in Detroit's dressingroom.

"We'll get 'em," said Howe.

"This will give us a real lift, be-

FAVOR FRASER

TO WIN TITLE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —

The odds are that Neale Fraser,

Australia's top world ranking player, will walk off with the second annual Masters Tennis

Championship, but longshot players are keeping their eye on

Jerry Moss, an Army enlisted

Moss pulled the upset of the tournament Thursday by defeating second-seeded Rod Laver, 6-4,

6-4. Laver, also an Australian, was easily down by the unseeded

at San Antonio, Tex.

Moss, who is from Miami

Beach, meets Roy Emerson, No. 3 seed from Australia, in the one

PLAYS SATURDAY

Emerson made the semifinals by defeating Miguel Overa of Ecuador, 6-3, 6-4 Thursday.

Fraser will have to wait until Saturday to face the winner of a delayed quarter-final match between Jim Shaffer of St. Petersburg and Luis Ayala, No. 4 seed from Brazil.

Shaffer won his berth in the quarter-finals by upsetting Marty

Mulligan of Australia 10-8, 6-4 in their match Thursday. Shaffer is a student at the University of Florida.

Fraser, as expected, moved into the semifinals, with a win over a Marine from Santa Monica,

Calif., Jon Douglas, 6-3, 10-8.

LENTEN PRAYER FOR TODAY

from Go With God

BY JIM BISHOP

To my way of thinking, the single enduring fact of prayer is that men, no matter how great, become humble and honest when they address God. In sum, the words they mouth for the world are not related to the words they are moved to express toward their Maker.

The humility and the wisdom of the words of prayer would lead one to believe that men and women, in the face of death, assess themselves and their spiritual wealth or poverty much more clearly than at any other time. Oliver Cromwell composed his deathbed prayer on the day of a terrible storm in England in August, 1658, and he began it with the confession: "Lord, though I am a miserable and wretched creature..."

Girolamo Savonarola, the Italian religious reformer who was hanged in 1498, for sedition and heresy, was a belligerent, vindictive man. Compare this belligerence with the final words of his last prayer:

MY LORD, I know Thou art the Trinity, perfect, invisible, distinct in three persons, Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

I know Thou art that eternal Word that descended from heaven to this earth in the womb of the Virgin Mary, and ascended the wood of the cross to shed Thy blood for us miserable sinners.

I beseech Thee, my Lord, I beseech Thee! Save me, I beseech Thee, my Comforter, that so much precious blood may not be shed for me in vain.

But let it be shed for the remission of my sins from the day I received the water of baptism until this hour, which I lay before you, and for which I crave Your pardon.

I implore pardon for aught in which I have offered against this city and its people, whether in things spiritual or temporal, and for all things in which I have erred knowingly. Amen.

Bullets Top Dutchmen 6-5 In Extra Inning; Temple Here Saturday

Jim Riccobono's single to left in the bottom of the 10th inning with Ted Koerner on base gave the Gettysburg College baseball team its first win of the season as it edged Lebanon Valley 6-5 here Thursday.

With the count tied at 5-5 relief pitcher Koerner drew a walk, stole second, went to third on King Gore's sacrifice bunt and raced home on Riccobono's line single to left.

Gettysburg lost little time in getting started with four runs in the first two frames but then gave up three tallies in the fifth and sixth frames. Frank Martin, starting his first game for the Bullets in left field, scored Gettysburg's initial run on a walk, sacrifice and a Lebanon Valley infield miscue. The Bullets came right back with three runs in the bottom of the second on one hit, a single by Jerry Robertson.

VISITORS TIE SCORE

The Dutchmen scored their first run in the top of the third on Bob Stull's single, a fielder's choice to John Witter and Ed Spahr's line double down the left field foul line. After Gettysburg tallied once in the bottom of the fourth, Lebanon Valley came back with two in the fifth and one more in the sixth.

The visitors tied the game at 5-5 with a run in the top of the eighth. Gene Stambach was hit by a pitched ball, George Weaver walked and Dick Rhine beat out an infield single to load the bases. Chuck Ebersole followed with another infield safety allowing Stambach to score.

Steven Wisler started on the mound for the visitors but gave way to losing pitcher Chuck Ebersole in the fifth. Gordon Kissner was the initial hurler for the Bullets with Wally Thayer coming on in the seventh and winning pitcher Ted Koerner tossing in the eighth. There were no outstanding hitters although John Witter, Ed Spahr and Jack Norwood collected doubles for their respective teams.

Gettysburg will be out to add its second Middle Atlantic Conference win when it tangles with Temple Saturday afternoon on the Bullets' diamond at 2:30 p.m.

DODGERS PLACE ED ROEBUCK ON DISABLED LIST

By ED WILKS

Relief pitcher Ed Roebuck may be all through—again; the Chicago Cubs have a leader—for two weeks, anyway; and the exhibition tour finally hits a major league park today as baseball closes in on the start of the 1961 season.

Roebuck, who hasn't pitched an inning this spring because of shoulder trouble, was placed on the disabled list by the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday, pending approval by Commissioner Ford Frick. It's the second time in three years that Roebuck, 29, has been hit by shoulder miseries.

The Cubs, meanwhile, picked Veli Himsi from their coaching group to open the season as quasi-manager. It's owner Phil Wrigley's idea to go with a leader instead of a definite manager this season, shifting the head man role among the four coaches who will be with the club at any one time.

OPENING DAY

With the season set to open Monday, and President Kennedy now officially scheduled to throw out the first ball at Washington when the Chicago White Sox meet the new Senators, the exhibition trail led the New York Yankees to the St. Louis Cardinals' Busch Stadium today for the opener of a three-game series.

Both were idle Thursday while the Cincinnati Reds again clipped Milwaukee, 6-5; the Dodgers beat San Francisco 14-7, the Cubs defeated Boston 9-5, the Detroit Tigers trimmed Chicago's White Sox 7-2, the Cleveland Indians beat the Los Angeles Angels 6-5 in 12 innings and Kansas City smacked Minnesota 9-4.

In a night game at Miami, Baltimore whipped Washington 8-1 with right-hander Steve Barber blanking the Senators on four hits in the seven innings he worked.

RAMOS BEATEN

The Reds came from behind with two runs in the ninth to win at Columbia, S.C., against the Braves' Bob Buhl, who went the distance for the third time although giving up 12 hits.

Sad Sam Jones of the Giants was tagged for nine runs in four innings at Phoenix by the Dodgers, who finished with 13 hits—including a double, three triples and home runs by Duke Snider, winning pitcher Don Drysdale and Charlie Smith.

At Sarasota, the Tigers had just four hits, but won their third in a row with five unearned runs in the second inning. Herb Score was the loser.

Johnny Romano's third hit of the day, a one out single, capped a two-run comeback for the Indians in the bottom of the 12th at Tucson against Angels' rookie Aubrey Gatewood. Lou Klimchok's three-run homer brought the A's from behind in the seventh against Twins' ace Pete Ramos at West Palm Beach.

St. Louis Papers Go Up Two Cents

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The price of both St. Louis daily newspapers will be raised to seven cents a copy effective Monday.

The afternoon Post-Dispatch and the morning Globe-Democrat gave rising costs as the reason for the 2-cent increase.

The Sunday Post will remain at 20 cents and the Sunday Globe at 15 cents.

Cage Semifinals This Evening

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Defending champion Gary meets Wichita, Kans., and dangerous New Orleans takes on Peoria, Ill., in semifinals of the World Biddy Basketball Tournament tonight.

The winners will meet for the championship at 3 p.m. Saturday. Gary was impressive Thursday night in a 68-27 victory over Augusta, Ga.

New Orleans looked good in a 48-29 victory over New York. Peoria squeezed past Puerto Rico 39-37, needing a 13-5 edge in free throws to win.

Wichita advanced by defeating Phoenixville, Pa., 34-25.

In the consolation bracket, East Chicago, Ind., crushed Fort Henry Heights, Ont., 65-21, and Bridgeport, Conn., defeated Lakewood, N.J., 45-36.

Local Little League Opens May 27; County Tournament Is Set Up

Plans for the 1961 Little League baseball season were outlined Thursday night at the regular meeting of the local league at the Elks Home. A special county meeting also preceded the Gettysburg league sessions.

During the Gettysburg Little League meeting, May 27 was set as the opening date for the 1961 campaign. Four teams will be in action to inaugurate the season. The local league tryouts will be held April 24, 25, 26 and May 1 and 2. League officials have decided to cut the tryouts to five days during the annual two-week affair and save the remaining five days as rain dates. The player auction has been set for Friday, May 5. Tryout schedules will be released at a later date.

It was also decided to follow the same season schedule as last year. Each team will play 15 games with the season concluding on July 22. All six Little League teams were represented Thursday with Dick Smith, vice president, presiding in the absence of President Leo McDermitt.

8-TEAM TOURNEY

The county meeting, which was held earlier in the evening, had an excellent turnout with Upper Adams, Fairfield, New Oxford, East Berlin, Littlestown, McSherrystown and Gettysburg well represented. Bonneville also sent word that it is most interested in participating in the county playoffs, giving the tourney an eight-team field. York Springs has declined an offer to play.

The organization has set July 31 as the opening of the county playoffs. Each team entered will play that night with the winners squaring off the following night and the losers of the first round competing the third night. The tourney will be a double elimination affair. Each town will be the site of at least one tournament game and trophies will be awarded.

G-BURG OPENS SPRING DRILLS

Approximately 62 candidates were on hand Wednesday afternoon as Gettysburg College started the 20 days of spring football practice allotted by the NCAA.

Head Coach Gene Haas, who will be starting his fifth season at the Bullet helm, will conduct the drills every day of the week and will hold an inter-squad scrimmage at the conclusion of the sessions.

All juniors who will be senior members of the squad next season were excused from practice because of participation in other spring sports. Those on hand included next year's sophomores and juniors.

Assisting Haas will be Jack Ridinger and Gene Hummel, line coaches, and Howard Shoemaker, backfield coach. Haas will utilize the 20 days working on basic fundamentals and conditioning the sophomores for the 1961 grid system.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 23-year-old Cuban, Leo Posada, has won the starting assignment in right field for the Kansas City Athletics.

Posada collected three doubles and a single and drove in two runs Thursday as the As defeated Minnesota 9-4. Manager Joe Gordon announced immediately after the game that Leo would replace the veteran Hank Bauer in the lineup opening day against Boston.

GHS Trackmen Lose Meet At Chambersburg; Owls Here On Tuesday

Sparked by a "triple" gained by John Savidge, the Chambersburg High School track squad won 12 of 15 events in whipping the Gettysburg High Warriors 87-39 1/2 in a dual meet at Chambersburg on Thursday.

Savidge won the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the 120 high hurdles.

GHS VICTORS
Registering victories for Gettysburg were Roger Ecker, who won the 880-yard run in 2:15; George Hayberger, who leaped 18 feet five inches to win the broad jump, and the mile relay team composed of Glenn Plank, Charles Becker, Gary Nett and Roy Gifford, who were clocked in 3:54.

Dick Nye, Trojan field star, took the shot put and discus with tosses of 44 feet six inches and 112 feet 8 1/2 inches, respectively.

Coach George Forney's squad will engage in two home meets next week, meeting Westminster on Tuesday and Hanover on Friday.

ROSBURG AND PALMER TIED IN MASTERS

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Defending champion Arnold Palmer, who had things mostly his own way after last year's opening round, today was crowded by two dangerous fellow pros and a brawny amateur plunging into the second round of the 25th Masters Golf Tournament.

Palmer was tied for first at 4-under-par 68 with Bob Rosburg, whose record 100-foot putt keyed a torrid finish over rain-soaked Augusta National Thursday.

Just a stroke behind Palmer and Rosburg, whose rallying round also included a holed 120-foot pitch shot, was the year's top money-winner, South African Gary Player, at 69.

NICKLAUS IS 4TH

Two strokes arrears was the muscular amateur, Jack Nicklaus, who bagged a 70 playing with Palmer. Nicklaus, a runner-up to Palmer in the 1960 U.S. Open, matched the Master champion's closing nine 34, two under par.

Last year, when Palmer led every round to capture his second Masters title, he shot an opening 67—two strokes better than the field.

Four others broke Augusta National's par 72 in Thursday's persistent drizzle which failed to dampen the enthusiasm of more than 10,000 spectators.

They included two-time champion Byron Nelson, 49, the 1957 king, Doug Ford, and two solid journeyman pros, Paul Harney and Johnny Pott, who came in with 71's.

SEVEN AT PAR

Seven were knotted at 72, including amateur Charley Coe, last year's runnerup Ken Venturi, PGA champ Jay Hebert, Gene Littler, Tommy Bolt, Stan Leonard, and Billy Casper.

Among no fewer than 23 locked at 74 were three-time champion Sammy Snead and two-time winner Ben Hogan.

After today's second round—tabbed to face cloudy, cool and possibly rainy weather—the original 88-player starting field will be trimmed to the low 40 score and ties, or 41 if there are no ties for 40th place.

Clearly, Palmer again is the man to beat. He dispelled his pre-tourney worry over putting Thursday, using 28 putts and having nine one-putt greens.

PHILS LINEUP IS ANNOUNCED

WICHITA, Kans. (AP)—Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies today announced his starting lineup for the club's National League opener at Los Angeles Tuesday night. It includes an all-left-handed hitting outfield and right-handed hitting infield.

In the outfield will be Tony Curry in left, Tony Gonzalez in center and Johnny Callison in right. The infield shapes up with Pancho Herrera at first, Tony Taylor at second, Ruben Amaro at short and Bobby Malkmus at third.

Veteran Robin Roberts is the starting pitcher. Clay Dalrymple, a left-handed hitter, will handle the catching.

FACE DRYSDALE

The Dodgers are expected to start right-handed fast-baller Don Drysdale.

Mauch feels the young players on the roster will be improved. He was pleased with the way they reacted to the basic fundamentals he preached during spring training.

In his starting lineup Mauch apparently is relying on youth and speed.

The only power swinger appears to be Herrera and while he seems to have the potential, he still must prove he can come through with the long ball.

Meanwhile, Roberts gets his final exhibition workout today when he pitches against the Pittsburgh Pirates here.

Warriors Lose Opener 5-2 At Westminster; To Meet Bubblers Here On Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—Danny

Moyer of Portland, Ore., undecided whether he's aiming at the welterweight or middleweight title, is a 7-5 favorite over Jorge Fernandez of Argentina for their 10-round nationally televised (ABC) bout at St. Nicholas Arena Saturday night.

Originally, Denny and Manager Sid Flaherty made plans to desert the 147-pound ranks to shoot for the heavier crown, but now that Emile Griffith is the welter champ, there may be a change of heart.

Moyer has twice fought Griffith, who won the welter title by knocking out Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba in Miami Beach last week. Moyer lost to Griffith in New York, then beat him in Portland.

First, however, Denny has to square matters with Fernandez, who outpointed him in Madison Square Garden last October when Moyer was a 9-5 favorite.

PICK DODGERS AND YANKEES TO COP FLAG

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers and the New York Yankees today were picked by an Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters to win the major league baseball pennants this season.

The Dodgers nosed out the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League by three points. However, the Dodgers received 125 of the 336 first place votes to 92 for the Pirates. The Pirates drew strong support for second and third place to make it close.

In the American League, the Yankees made a runaway of the poll, more than doubling Baltimore's first place votes. The Yanks had 192 firsts to the Orioles' 85. In points the Yanks led 3,131 to 2,866.

OTHER RATES

Points were figured on an 8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis in the National and on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis in the American.

The writers and sportscasters figured Milwaukee, San Francisco and St. Louis also would be in the National League race. They gave the Braves 65 firsts, the Giants 29 and the Cardinals 25. No other National League team drew a first place vote.

In the American League, all but the new clubs in Los Angeles and Washington drew at least one first place vote. Chicago got 33, Cleveland 20, Detroit 3 and Minnesota, Boston and Kansas City one each.

The new Washington team drew one fourth place vote and the Angles drew three fifth-place votes, their only first division ballots. Washington was consigned to 10th place in the expanded American League. Los Angeles was placed ninth as had been expected.

In the National, the Cubs barely nosed out the Phillies in the race to escape the cellar. The Cubs had 624 points to the Phils' 539.

Penn State Holds Spring Grid Drills

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Spring football practice is under way at Penn State with 85 candidates competing for the 22 places on the first two teams.

Graduating seniors left nine vacancies on coach Rip Engle's two top teams. The graduating players include Jim Kerr, the team's leading ground-gainer and scorer, and Dick Hoak, the quarterback on the alternate unit.

Spring drills started Thursday with a routine workout.

Engle has six candidates for the quarterback slot. All are newcomers with no game experience.

Galen Hall, quarterback of the first squad, is among six members of last year's team who are missing spring football practice in order to participate in baseball or track.

HEAR "FIX" WITNESSES

NEW YORK (AP)—The grand jury investigating the college basketball scandal will hear witnesses for the fourth straight day today.

No details were released after the third session Thursday by the district attorney's office, which has indicated no announcement will be made until the investigation is complete.

Westminster High broke a 2-2 deadlock with three runs in the last of the fourth inning to defeat the Gettysburg Warriors baseball team 5-2 Thursday afternoon at Westminster in the opening game of the season for Coach Don Young's outfit. Westminster played a 6-6 deadlock with McDonough of Baltimore in its opener Wednesday.

Tommy Duane, who hurled the first four innings for Gettysburg, was tagged with the loss. Greg Maitland pitched the final two frames and escaped being scored upon. Starnier pitched the entire route for the Owls, giving up three hits and fanning 10.

Westminster tallied once in the opening inning on two hit batters, a walk and an error.

GHS GETS PAIR

The Warriors tallied both of their runs in the top of the second. Greg Maitland and Jim Davies walked, Tim Culp was safe on an error and Johnny Longenecker singled home Maitland. Davies raced home on a passed ball before Starnier retired the side without further damage.

A double by Ploutz, walk, outfield fly and single by Spurrer gave Westminster the tying run in the bottom of the third.

The Owls sewed up the outcome in the bottom of the fourth. Klorh was safe on an error and Hook singled. After Ploutz skied to center, Taylor walked. Ebaugh lofted to shortstop but Spurrer doubled home the runners.

The Warriors will meet Boiling Springs here Monday at 4 p.m. in their first home game.

Girl Scouts Learn About Child Care

The Girl Scouts of Troop 45 continued work on the child care badge at the meeting on Wednesday after school at the engine house. Mrs. John F. Flickinger and Mrs. John Kump, leaders, supervised the practice learning of the proper way to bathe a baby.

Martha Ritter and Linda Keefer showed some of their work toward earning the seamstress badge. The discussed plans for an over night camping trip with Troop 51 on Saturday and Sunday, April 22 and 23. The girls will camp at Camp Happy Valley, the Adams County Girl Scout Council site, as a requirement to complete the campers' badge. The group talked about participation in the local Court of Awards on Monday, May 8, in the high school auditorium. The next regular meeting of the troop will be held Wednesday, April 19, 3:45 p.m.

CUB GROUPS MEET

"Air Adventure," the April study theme of Cub Scouting, was discussed at the meeting of Den 9 on Wednesday after school at the engine house. The group made one-step rockets from balloons and paper bags, under the supervision of Mrs. Junior T. Bittle and Mrs. Catherine Hall, den mothers, and James Bittle, den chief. The boys made Easter baskets at their meeting last week, and also visited the train layout of Ronald Lehn, near town.

Kites were made by the Cub Scouts of Den 5 at the meeting on Thursday after school in the engine house. Mrs. Denton Barnhart and Mrs. William Waltz, den mothers, supervised, assisted by Robert Alloff, den chief. The Cubs will meet at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday at the engine house to go to the home of Paul Steinour, near town.

15,000 Persons At Archbishop's Fete

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Some 15,000 persons gathered in Convention Hall Thursday night for a reception honoring the Most Rev. John J. Krol, new Roman Catholic archbishop of Philadelphia.

Gov. David L. Lawrence and Mayor Richardson Dilworth extended the greetings and best wishes of the state and city.

"May I assure you," replied the archbishop, "that the sum of my objectives in my work and of my service among you is to promote the greatest and First Commandment, which is the love of God, and the Second, Commandment, which is like unto it—love of neighbor."

Mrs. Kennedy Asks For More Paintings

BOSTON (AP)—Some American paintings are en route to the White House at request of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, described by an expert as "the nation's No. 1 art lover."

Perry T. Rathbone, director of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, said Thursday the President's wife has selected 11 works from the museum's collection for the White House.

Her selections include: a portrait of Daniel Webster by George P. A. Healy; New England scenes by Winslow Homer and Maurice Prendergast; watercolors by John Singer Sargent and contemporary work by Edward Hopper.

Home And Garden Show Continues Tonight, Saturday

The fourth annual Better Homes and Gardens Show, sponsored by the Ocker-Snyder American Legion post, Littlestown, opened Thursday evening at Bankert's roller rink, N. Queen St. It will continue this evening from 7 to 11 o'clock and Saturday afternoon and evening. The grand prize is an all-expense-paid cruise for two to Bermuda. Many interesting displays are arranged for the show this year. Members of the Legion Auxiliary and others are invited to send candy for the stand being conducted at the show. (Times photo)

ARTHUR E. BAIR IS HONORED AT TESTIMONIAL

A testimonial dinner was tendered Wednesday evening to Arthur E. Bair, who started work 46 years ago as bookkeeper at the Littlestown National Bank and rose to its presidency. On March 31 Mr. Bair retired as active president of the bank.

The testimonial dinner was held at Schottie's Hotel with Theron Spangler, executive vice president of the bank, as toastmaster. There were gifts for the retiring president with members of Mr. Bair's family present as specially invited guests.

Miss Anna Weaver presented Mr. Bair with a Hamilton watch in behalf of the employees of the bank and Paul Lawyer presented a large reclining chair in behalf of the bank's board of directors. The cashier, Ray T. Harner, gave the centerpiece of 46 red roses to Mrs. Bair.

The invocation was given by Albert Bair, son of the guest of honor, and there were remarks by Dr. Howard Stonesifer as chairman of the board and by Mr. Bair. Members of the Bair family among the guest listed included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Basehoar, Mrs. Edwin Devaney, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Bair Jr., Mrs. Henry King and Trust Officer Albert J. Bair and his wife.

A summary of Mr. Bair's 46 years with the Littlestown National was presented by Toastmaster Spangler who said:

"He came to our institution as a bookkeeper in March, 1915, after having spent seven years as a teacher in the Union Twp. schools. I might add that the job of bookkeeper at that time included the duties of janitor as well. He served in this capacity until I arrived on the scene in 1921 and took over the janitor's chores and other duties assigned me. In January, 1922, he was promoted to assistant cashier and in 1924 to cashier. On May, 1942, when Warren Jones resigned as president of our bank, he became executive officer of the bank. He was elected a director in January, 1951, and elevated to the presidency in 1952.

ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY

"All of this tells you that he has been a loyal and devoted servant of the Littlestown National Bank, having gained the respect and admiration of his fellow employees, the board of directors, as well as the members of the community. He has always been active in civic affairs, having served as an officer and member of the Chamber of Commerce, secretary-treasurer of the Littlestown Board of Trade and president of the Littlestown Borough Authority. He has also been chairman and committee member of the Adams County Bankers' Association and of Group Five of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association. For many years he has been serving as treasurer of the Sunday School and as a member of the council of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

"Having started with our bank just seven years after its organization, he has had a prominent part in its growth. The total resources in March, 1955, were $439,842 and in March, 1961, $7,600,536.

"I'm sure I speak for all of us when I say that we wish for Mr. and Mrs. Bair many happy and carefree years of retirement."

PASTORS ON AIR

The Littlestown Ministerium will be in charge of the daily morning devotions next week at 8:30 a.m. over radio station WHVR, Hanover. The schedule will be as follows: Monday, Rev. Lawrence H. ## Littlestown News Briefs

After try-outs for majorettes of the Littlestown High School Band, the following students were selected: Linda Harner, Kay Morehead and JoAnn Cookson.

The Littlestown Archers will sponsor a 28-field shoot on Sunday afternoon at the Fish and Game Farm, near town. Registration will take place from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m.

The Littlestown baseball players will have practice on Saturday and Sunday at 1:30 p.m. on Memorial Field. The local team is a member of the 12-team South Penn League this year. All baseball players of Littlestown and vicinity are invited to participate. Those having uniforms, who do not intend to play with the team this year, are asked to return them.

A Buddy Deane Record Hop will be held in the Littlestown High School auditorium this evening from 8 to 11 o'clock. The hop is being sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Alpha Fire Company.

Mrs. Ralph Conover and Mrs. Harry C. Scholl will serve as hostesses at the April meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the Legion Home, E. King St.

Robert W. Gouker, L. L. Holland and Vernon Halter will be in charge of the entertainment at the monthly meeting of the Littlestown Fish and Game Association Inc. next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the club house, near town. Refreshments will be served by M. S. Collins, George Cool and Harold Cook. Final plans will be announced for the annual spring banquet on April 19.

The community center group and other interested persons will meet on Thursday, April 13, 8 p.m. at the community building on E. King St. Plans will be advanced to establish the community center.

The Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will have a Ladies' Night banquet program and installation of officers on Thursday, April 13, 6:30 p.m. in the Starlite Room, Dutterer's Restaurant. The guest speaker for the occasion will be Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown Joint School System.

WOMEN'S GUILD MEETING HELD

The Women's Guild of Christ United Church met at the church on Wednesday evening. The April leaders were Miss Miriam Dutterer, Mrs. Alta Myers and Mrs. Lavere G. Mummert. The program consisted of the opening thought given by Mrs. Myers; group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Harold E. Shoemaker; responsive reading and prayer, led by Miss Dutterer; reading, Mrs. Mummert; meditation, Miss Dutterer; topic, "Heritage and Horizons in Home Missions," discussed by Mrs. Myrtle Kauffman, Hanover.

Mrs. Orville C. Sentz, president, presided for the business and heard the reports of Mrs. Clyde L. Sierner, secretary, and Mrs. Charles A. Grove, treasurer. Mrs. G. Howard Koons was appointed delegate and Mrs. Clyde Sierner, alternate, to the biennial convention of the Nevin Regional Guild on Wednesday, April 12, 9 a.m. in Christ United Church of Christ, Codorus. Each person will take her own box lunch. The group accepted the invitation of the Women's Guild of Redeemer's United Church of Christ to attend the meeting on Monday, April 24, when a student from Indonesia will be the guest speaker. The birthdays of Mrs. Harold Shoemaker and Mrs. Lester L. Hilker were noted. The secretary was instructed to draw up resolutions of respect for the Richard M. Withers families. Preliminary plans were announced for a family fellowship gathering on a date to be set in May. The affair will be held in the form of a covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m. in the grove hall. The meat loaf and cake for the meal will be provided by the officers and the program will be arranged by the officers and departmental chairmen.

IRON CURTAIN MEETING

GENEVA (AP) — For the first time in its 14-year history, the Lutheran World Federation has scheduled the annual meeting of its executive committee, June 27-30-July 1, in a Communist-ruled country—at Warsaw, Poland.

Israeli Opinions Differ Over Forthcoming Trial Of Eichmann, Hitler's Exterminator Of Jews

By RELMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP) — Spread across six columns of discussion in the Israeli newspaper Jerusalem Post is the caption "Trying Eichmann—triumph or tragedy?" This question is the subject of fierce controversy in Israel today with many clashing points of view.

Adolf Eichmann, chief of the Jewish affairs section of the Nazi Gestapo, goes to trial here Tuesday. He is charged formally with "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity." The indictment holds him responsible in the deaths of an estimated six million Jews, slain in the Germans' extermination camps during World War II.

Eichmann contends he was operational director of the extermination plan known as the "final solution of the Jewish question."

You might expect to find unanimity of opinion on this extraordinary case, the justification for kidnapping Eichmann in Buenos Aires last year, and the desirability of trying him in Israel. But opinion is by no means unanimous.

A young Israeli, noting the immense labor in preparing for the trial, remarked quietly: "One bullet in Buenos Aires would have made all this unnecessary."

A shopkeeper on King David street says: "The trial will cost a great deal of money and Israel is not a rich nation. It would have been better to give Eichmann to the Germans and let them try him."

"PROVE A MISTAKE" Two distinguished Zionists, both associated with this movement for over 50 years, disagree about the trial's effects.

Meir Gossman says in the Jerusalem Post: "This is going to prove a great mistake. It will introduce strife and quarrels into the Jewish camp and will lead to vituperation and vilification of the Jews." He doubts the trial will elicit new information about Nazi atrocities or serve to remind the world of horrors visited on the Jews.

But Richard Lichtheim says in the same article: "Israel had no alternative." He adds: "The trial has an important educational aspect for the younger generations, both in Israel and Germany."

COULD GET DEATH Jewish liberals abroad who worry about the trial are cowards, trembling in case Gentiles think badly of the Jews, Licht-

Davlin Is Back After Cancer Illness

HARRISBURG (AP) — William R. Davlin, state commerce secretary, is back at work after more than six weeks in the hospital for cancer treatments. "I feel good, I surely do," Davlin reported Thursday after his first day back in the office. "I'm through with the treatments and the doctors are extremely optimistic that these will have taken care of my problem."

The 49-year-old cabinet officer is known for his department's efforts to bring new industry to the state's labor surplus areas through the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

Davlin said he plans to go to Dallas, Tex., tonight for the annual meeting of the American Industrial Development Council. He is a vice president of the group.

Pick Roy Schafer As New Secretary

HARRISBURG (AP) — Roy A. Schafer, 35, national president of the Young Democrats, is Gov. Lawrence's new appointments secretary.

Schafer, who has been Lawrence's legislative secretary since 1959, was named to the $15,000-a-year post Thursday, succeeding Otis B. Morse IV. Morse was elected Democratic state chairman.

At the same time the governor's office promoted Isabelle M. Allas to executive assistant at an annual salary of $10,432. Miss Allas has been serving as administrative assistant to Walter Giesey, the governor's executive secretary.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Rafer Johnson, who has been called "world's greatest living athlete," and who was elected by his teammates to carry the American flag into the Olympic Games, where he won the decathlon, manifests faith in sports. The qualities of this gentle, strong, intelligent man have been honored off the field as well as on: He was elected president of the eighth grade of his Kingsburg, Calif., school, president of the high school, and 3 times president of the 11,000-students of U.C.L.A. In a recent talk for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, to businessmen and athletes, Rafer presented "the importance of the spiritual dimension in his life," attributing "his individual excellence to the fact that Christ is the Master of his life and that he tries to attune his life to God's will."

SLAVE ISLAND LANDMARK FOR MANY TOURISTS

GOREE ISLAND, Senegal (AP) — A grim dungeon on this sleepy, dust-covered island, served as one of Africa's first links with the New World.

Thousands of black slaves from the African mainland, two miles away, passed through Goree's "transit camp," which is shown to tourists today as "Maison des Esclaves."

The trade was part of the triangular exchange between Africa, America and Europe, which eventually brought alcohol, firearms and textiles to the dark continent.

For more than two centuries, expanding colonial powers fought bitterly for strategically located Goree. The tiny island (900 by 300 yards) changed hands 10 times after its discovery by Portuguese adventurers in the 15th Century.

ONCE NAVAL BASE

The French tricolor finally settled over it in 1802. In 1818, with the definite abolition of the slave trade, the island became a naval

Now the green-white-red flag of the Republic of Senegal flies over the ancient Dutch, Portuguese and French fortifications. A white-painted launch takes tourists from nearby Dakar to the rocky island. On the beach were swashbuckling adventurers once landed, girls in bikinis lie in the sun.

OVERJOYED AT FILM FIRING

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What ever became of Millie Perkins?

It's Millie asking the question. In 1958, she won fame and critical applause overnight in the title role of the movie "The Diary of Anne Frank."

She remained under contract to 20th Century-Fox, but there was very little work for her. Recently she completed her second film for the studio, "Wild In The Country," with Elvis Presley.

"We see a great career ahead of you. We're going to put you in a great film."

Millie adds:

"But I wasn't asking for that. All I asked was to have a little experience. I spent 2 1/2 years arguing with them."

Sir William Phipps, royal governor of Massachusetts in 1692, was the first native American to be knighted by an English king. Phipps was born in Maine.

FINDS WINDOW CLEANING JOB IS PROFITABLE

KING'S LYNN, England (AP) — Robert Walter, 20, who once called Brooklyn home, thinks there is more opportunity for the little man in Britain than in the United States.

That's why he has set himself up as a one-man window cleaning firm in this Norfolk town.

After two years as an airman at the USAF base at nearby Sculthorpe, he returned to the United States last summer to look for a job.

His English wife, Judy, a 20-year-old brunette window dresser, and their 8-month-old son, Robert, were to have joined him later.

NEED CAPITAL

But, Walter explains: "I like to work on my own. And back home it's very hard to go into business without capital. They don't want little people over there. Big concerns control so many things."

So he came back to his mother-in-law's home in King's Lynn. After a day canvassing the town for customers he decided there was a future in window cleaning.

"We had 10 pounds one shilling ($28.14) in the bank," Walter explains. "So we drew out 10 pounds ($28) of it."

AFTER CONTRACTS

Two ladders cost me 8 pounds ($22.40), a wash leather 12 shillings 6 pence ($1.75), a bucket 7 shillings 6 pence ($1.05) and dusters six shillings (84 cents)."

In his first week he collected 45 customers — and 6 pounds ($16.80) at four pence (4 1/2 cents) for each ordinary-sized window.

"I'm going to stick at it until I can afford to buy a motor van instead of having to use a barrow," he says. "What I'm after are a few contracts with businesses, then I'll start earning real money."

Says his wife: "I'm all for Robert's window cleaning. Especially when he cleans ours."

Why all the idleness?

Says Millie: "Many young people would like to be under contract. But Fox didn't understand me."

She says she's overjoyed that the studio has now released her. During her 2 1/2 years of mainly idleness studio officials would tell her:

"We see a great career ahead of you. We're going to put you in a great film."

Millie adds:

"But I wasn't asking for that. All I asked was to have a little experience. I spent 2 1/2 years arguing with them."

Sir William Phipps, royal governor of Massachusetts in 1692, was the first native American to be knighted by an English king. Phipps was born in Maine.

States To Pool Data On Drunken Driving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania is among 21 states which have agreed to pool information on motorists who have lost their licenses for drunken driving or a fatal accident.

The federal Bureau of Roads said in a statement Thursday that it expects to begin its national driver register service soon after July 1. The aim of the service is to make it impossible for a driver who has lost his license in one state to obtain one in another.

SHARKS FAVOR SPECIAL SMELL

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP) — Ichthyologist J. L. B. Smith believes some humans possess a quality that makes them particularly attractive to sharks.

"It would seem," says Prof. Smith, "that there is a special smell about these particular people."

"A shark will pick out its victims and, ignoring other bathers, will go into the attack by first brushing up against him to get the taste, as sharks 'taste' with their skin."

"After the first brush, it will return and take a little bite. The third time it will go for the kill."

"After the first brush there should always be plenty of time to get away. Do not wait to investigate or peer into the water to see what has brushed up against you."

"Get away from the spot at once and out of the water. Then you can begin to wonder about it in safety."

"A shark always attacks a fish from behind, biting off its tail. In the same way it will attack a human, biting at the legs."

"A swimmer is, at any time, in most danger while floating with his legs down or standing in the water."

Professor Smith says there are dangerous sharks in virtually all seas and there is a slight danger of an attack at all times.

He suggests that water towers be built at popular beaches. These have proven effective in Australia, since it is easy to spot a fairly large shark from a height.

HODGES TO SPEAK

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges will be the principal speaker at the 113th commencement program of Lycoming College June 4.

D. Frederick Wertz, Lycoming College president, said Thursday the former North Carolina governor has accepted an invitation to address the graduating class.

"QUESTION 7"

Young Moderns

BY VIVIAN BROWN

The Associated Press

Six Nelly Blys of tomorrow earned their way to New York City and back to Lakeland, Fla., recently to see how women fare in the newspaper field in the big town.

The girls—Susan Taylor, Penny Howell, Jane Ward, Miriam Yates, Betsy Cox and Pam Pate — also attended the Scholastic Press Association meetings at Columbia University.

But each mile came the hard way.

The half dozen 17-year-olds first attacked 113 of Lakeland's dusty autos with buckets of soap and water, and banked the fees for their shined-up finished products.

By "talking real sweet to men's civic clubs," they raised $550. And Jane Ward, editor of the "Bagpipe," the school paper, earned more money by conducting a children's party, making her own refreshments.

60 CENT LOAVES

In the Pate kitchen Pam raised dough literally, shaped it and sold her loaves of bread at 60 cents a piece. The profit, of course, went into the mutual travel kitty.

The other girls also kept their ovens hot, baking cookies and cakes for sale. Then the Lakeland Ledger, the local newspaper, and some of its readers contributed to their fund.

At last the girls could pack their bags. Part of the fun of the trip took place even before they left home. The 18 others on the Bagpipe staff gave them a gift and goodies to eat on the way.

Did they get their hard-earned money's worth in experience?

"At the United Nations we came face to face with Adlai Stevenson and Eleanor Roosevelt," Susan says, wide-eyed.

VISITED NEWSPAPERS

Yes, and they did learn about newspaper offices. The six made their ways through the complex corridors of the New York Times, and the Associated Press, counted linotype machines, learned the intricacies of wirephoto machines, noted how many desks were clean, and inquired about the ratio of women writers to men.

Men were always way ahead on the count. However, Virginia Davis, their journalism teacher who accompanied the teen-agers on the trip, was confident the girls would not desert their careers in journalism because of the bleak women-in-the-news picture.

"A first-hand trip like this is worth more than dozens of classroom lectures," their teacher summed up.

Jail Boy And Two Sisters 2 Weeks; Skipped School

COLQUITT, Ga. (AP) The three youngsters pressed their faces against the bars on the jail house window and shouted: "We won't run away, honest we won't. Let us out."

The 10-year-old boy and his two sisters, aged 12 and 14, have been in jail in this southwest Georgia city for two weeks because they stayed away from school and threatened to run away from their grandmother's house.

Sheriff W. Felix Tabb said the three were abandoned by their mother and that their father died in 1959. He said they had violated no laws but were locked up because their grandmother could not control them.

Superior Court Judge Walter L. Geer held a hearing, the sheriff said, and decided the best thing to do was send them to training school. "There was no other place for them to go. We figured the mother might cause trouble if they were located in a home," he said.

The sheriff said the youngsters would remain in jail until papers can be processed for them to be transferred to state training schools. He said he did not know how long this would take.

The children told a reporter they were willing to go anywhere as long as it wasn't another jail or a training school. And as the reporter left they shouted after him and waved from the window.

GIVEN 10 DAYS TO APPEAL LIFE IMPRISONMENT

BALTIMORE (AP) — The convicted kidnaper of an Apple Grove, Va., mother and her 5-year-old daughter has been given 10 days in which to appeal two sentences of life imprisonment.

Melvin Davis Rees Jr., of Hyattsville, Md., was sentenced in Baltimore's U.S. District Court Thursday by Chief District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen after the judge turned down defense motions for a retrial.

It was the maximum sentence the judge could impose on the 32-year-old defendant, tried under the Lindbergh Law, since the jury which convicted Rees on Feb. 23 did not recommend the death penalty.

REES, A MUSICIAN

Rees, a jazz musician, was convicted of kidnapping Mrs. Mildred Jackson and her daughter, Susan, Jan. 11, 1959. Their bodies were found in a shallow grave near Gambrills, Md., in March of that year.

Mrs. Jackson's husband, Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, and another daughter, Janet, 1½, had disappeared at the same time. They were found slain near Fredericksburg, Va.

Immediately after Rees was sentenced, one of his court-appointed attorneys, William J. Evans, said his client would not begin his term now, pending a possible appeal.

DECISION TO REES

The defense has until April 17 in which to file a notice of appeal to the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals—next step up in the federal judiciary system.

Evans said he did not know if the move would be made. "It's his (Rees') decision to make," he said.

Under the sentences handed down Thursday—life imprisonment for each count of the indictment against him—Rees could be eligible for parole in 15 years.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

LAUD FOSTER

President E. Donald Scott expressed the county commissioners' appreciation for the services of the foster parents, advisory board members and the paid staff for the child welfare services. He introduced Miss Beatrice Robinson, state field representative in child welfare work who spoke of the need for recruiting capable visitors and office staff members here and throughout the state.

Foster parents were introduced as were other guests and Mrs. Naugle announced that children in foster homes and their foster parents have been invited to attend the annual Shrine circus in Harrisburg April 15 as the guests of the Shriners.

BEE STINGS HELPFUL

In his talk on bees, Mr. King described a beehive as "one of the most perfect forms of democracy," described bees as efficient engineers, immaculate housekeepers and "one of the few living things that can determine the sex of their offspring."

He described the efficient division of labor in a beehive, said the homing instinct that takes a bee as much as five miles away from the hive and brings him back with unerring accuracy has never been explained, described the "nectar dance" by which workers tell their fellows of the direction and distance to nectar sources and declared bees operate "one of the most ancient and effective air conditioning systems ever developed."

He talked of the food value of honey and the reputed therapeutic value of bee stinging venom for some people. He said the fluid injected in a bee sting has medical uses for arthritis and told of an unidentified man who came twice to the King home to receive bee stings in the hope it would help his arthritis.

Mr. King quoted writers and bee authorities who claim "that no beekeeper ever died of cancer" and that honey and vinegar and other honey concoctions have unusual food values.

Mimeographed reports distributed at the meeting showed that the number of children under care of the welfare service dropped in the last year from 112 to 88 with 34 children now in 30 approved foster homes. Fourteen are in institutions and 36 with parents or relatives. Four were listed as "elsewhere."

A financial summary showed that last year the operation of the child welfare services in the county involved expenditure of a total of $39,791 with the largest single item being $18,704 for foster home care.

Ladies of the church served the dinner and the host pastor, the Rev. John Z. Martin, gave the invocation. Group singing was led by Miss Kathryn O'Boyle, church organist.

STOCKS NUDGE UP

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices nudged upward with oil shares leading the way early this afternoon.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up .20 to 24.5 with industrials up .70, rails up .10 and utilities off .20.

Trading moved along at a lively clip but was far behind the 7-million-share rate of Tuesday.

Tobacco, metals and rubbers leaned to the upside. Motors, chemicals and rails were mixed. Electronics and utilities were off. Prices nudged upward with issues ranged from a fraction to a point or so.

to give them praise when they do the right thing. We need not worry about telling them when they are wrong—we do that almost automatically. But we should worry about praising them when they do right. One word of praise is worth a thousand scoldings.

TRAINING AND EXAMPLE

"We need also to help our children develop physically. I am one of the best rooters for our high school team and Little League. But aren't we making 400 spectators for every one who participates by our emphasis on the varsity team and the Little League. Would it not be better to work out a program where all 400 can take part?"

"We need also to do more in providing for better educational and vocational development. We have already started special work for the retarded and the brilliant. But we still largely lump together those in between. It will be an expensive and difficult task when we should provide separate programs for the various shades of ability in between."

"And most of all we need to provide moral, spiritual, character development. And there we need training, but most of all we need example."

ELECT OFFICERS

President James Feather presided at the meeting at which a $25 donation was voted to the foreign exchange student program of the local high school. The amount was decided upon "to show our interest and at the same time not discourage the wonderful initiative shown by the students in raising themselves the fund for the foreign student exchange."

It was announced that the Adams County PTA Council will meet April 21 at Bendersville Elementary School and the Central District Conference of Pennsylvania PTA's will be held April 29 at Keefeauver School.

Rev. Edwin Elliott was elected president of the local high school PTA for the coming year. Mrs. Edwin Coddington was named vice president; Mrs. Glenn Simpson, treasurer, and Mrs. David Deitch, secretary.

ASK MORE PAY AND LESS WORK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five railroad unions have requested a guaranteed annual wage, a shorter work week and many other concessions for 210,000 railroad operating employees.

The proposals were made Thursday to the presidential study commission investigating railroad work rules and practices.

The unions want a guaranteed annual wage for any employee with eight months of service in one year and compensated service for five of the preceding 10 years.

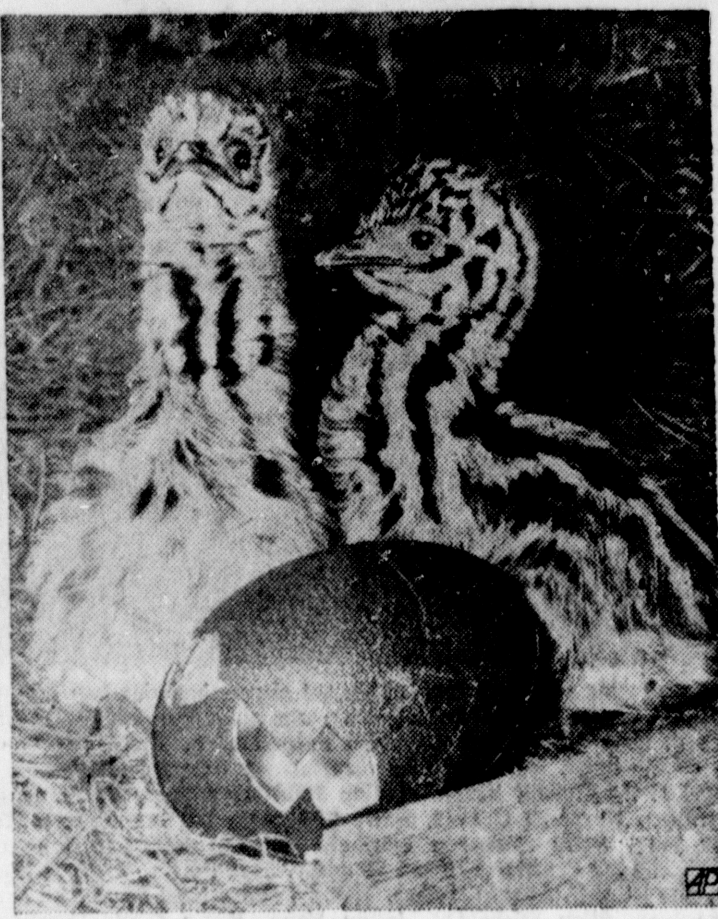

Such a person would receive full pay for 12 months, even if he didn't work full time.

Eli L. Oliver, economist for the five unions of operating workers, told the commission that 600,000 have lost their jobs in the past 14 years. He added that "extremely irregular use" has been made of those employees kept on the payroll.

The unions also asked for new overtime rules, paid holidays, a 10 per cent night work bonus, away-from-home expenses and full pay for five years for those workers who lose their jobs as a result of railroad mergers.

Police Seek Terrorists In Algerian Bombings In Paris

PARIS (AP) — French police made a nationwide sweep against suspected Algerian and French terrorists today as killings and bombings increased after the collapse of hopes for immediate negotiations to end the Algerian rebellion.

Paris police hunted an Algerian execution squad that carried the hit-and-run war between rival rebel factions into a suburban hospital Thursday, killing 2 persons and wounding 12.

The hospital raid in suburban Montfermeil was one of the most violent episodes in the war between the FLN and MNA, conducted for 6½ years in Paris.

ARRIVE IN TAXI

Six men in a tax drove up to the hospital where Algerian victims of a recent FLN-MNA clash were in a surgical ward. Three of the raiders charged up to the third floor and killed a French policeman guarding the Algerians' room with his own machine gun.

Bursting into the room, they killed Mohamed Talba, believed to have been a member of the MNA, in his bed.

The gang then ran from room to room, spraying bullets. One of their victims was a French girl, Martine Petit, 7, wounded as she lay in bed. Also wounded were her father, sitting beside the bed, and her mother, who flung herself across the child.

The three gunmen then rushed to their waiting taxi, knocking out a ward attendant as they ran and beating a nurse with gun butts. In the yard, two policemen who tried to stop them were shot in the feet.

More than a dozen Algerians were later arrested but there was no indication that the identity of the gunmen had been learned.

The attacks on the American offices in Algiers were the latest in a series of bombings blamed on diehard French colonists. The extremists apparently were angered that the U. S. Ambassador to Tunisia, Walter N. Walmesley Jr., held private talks Monday in Tunis with two FLN ministers.

"Here comes your paper, Ma'am There goes my allowance MOM"

Our George shouted his personal declaration of independence, then hurried along to the next house.

"You're like a tadpole, son," Dad had cautioned the day he asked to become a newspaperboy. "Wet behind the ears, and trailing the tail of childhood."

"Newspaperboys lose their tadpole tails early," countered George. "They prove how dependable teenagers can be, save in bank accounts, and . . ."

"But you have your allowance, George," mother interrupted.

Patrick Henry could not have replied more majestically.

"The day I start is the day my allowance stops," George exclaimed proudly.

Dad lit a cigar, the lazy smoke showed he was thinking.

"Mother," he murmured, "isn't it the duty of all us Frogs to help Tadpoles wiggle off their tails?"

To help your son become a newspaperboy — have him get his name on the list at

Turns In Her Son For Stealing Vehicle

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Police say a mother here turned in her son for driving a stolen auto.

Officers said the mother picked up a telephone extension at home Thursday and overheard her son, 15, telling a schoolmate he would pick him up for school in a car. Since she knew her son had no car, she drove to the schoolmate's home and saw her son arrive in a 1959 model. She said she chased the two boys several blocks before she blocked them and took both boys to Juvenile Court.

Court officials said the two boys had been released last week on charges of burglary.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Kennedy produced no sensations at his first news conference as attorney general.

This tough, 35-year-old Kennedy who used to try to give Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa the miseries when he was chief counsel for the Senate racket committee was mild, humorous, and unprovocative.

He talked about what he wanted to do rather than anything done. His humor and his mildness will get a workout later when he's in the job longer and has to answer questions about what he's done.

It was hardly more than a get-acquainted session with a record, standing-room only crowd of 174 reporters, men and women, in the Justice Department Thursday afternoon.

ANSWERS PLEASANTLY

Some of the same men and women who always get up to ask at least one question at the news conferences of his brother, President Kennedy, got up as expected and asked the new attorney general some.

He seemed prepared and, like the President, responded pleasantly. But some of these same people used to get under President Eisenhower's skin and he showed it.

He talked of his plans for dealing with organized crime, juvenile delinquency, and Negroes' civil rights in the South. And he called the John Birch Society "ridiculous."

HOMEWORK WELL DONE

Robert Kennedy, like the President, had done his homework and was able to answer a broad field of questions. He also suggested there's corruption in business and it's time businessmen cleaned house.

He dwelt only briefly on civil rights—in answer to a Negro reporter's question—but although it was vague it was enough to give added insight into how the Kennedy administration expects to deal with the South on this issue.

It can be summed up this way: Try to get state officials to correct abuses so the federal government won't have to move in. This might indicate the administration hopes to soft-pedal civil rights problems.

"POLITICAL SENSE"

But the President has to work with a lot of Southern Democratic politicians in Congress and depend on them in most instances to help put his programs through.

If the administration follows the tactic of not moving into the South—until after a state fails to heed a request for action—it can say it had no choice left but to move in.

This may make good political sense, in dealing with white Southern politicians, but not necessarily in dealing with Northern Negro voters if they feel federal action has been needlessly delayed.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Douglas Aircraft Co. said Thursday it would build a new DC8F jet plane that could cut tourist-class fares 20 per cent and lower cargo rates by 50 per cent.

Say Foreign Gun Used In Slaying

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Evidence indicates that a foreign-made pistol was used for the mysterious slaying of Paige R. Blakeley, 61, and his wife, Sarah, 53, detectives report.

The couple's bodies were found 10 days ago in the bedroom of their home. The house was locked and at first the authorities could find nothing to give them an idea of what had happened.

But Charles Moody, chief of Montgomery County detectives, said Thursday that a laboratory analysis of bullets indicated that a pistol of foreign make was used.

One bullet was taken from each body and a third from the headboard of the bed. Moody also said that a bedspread found in the room had been put over Mrs. Blakeley in an effort to muffle the shot, according to laboratory findings.

"Candy Bandit" Gets Longer Term

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—William Wells Jr., dubbed by police as the "Candy Bandit," and another young man were given additional prison terms Thursday.

Wells, 27, of Camden, N.J., and Lester R. Fuller, 26, of Philadelphia, recently began 8-year federal sentences for a robbery at the Cayuga Savings and Loan Association.

Now, Judge Bernard J. Kelley of Quarter Sessions Court has added 7½-to-20-year terms, which will begin when the federal sentences have been served.

Wells was dubbed the "Candy Bandit" because he robbed several candy stores. He pleaded guilty to 10 holdups at savings and loan associations and candy stores. Fuller was convicted of two savings and loan association robberies.

dent of the company expressed belief the plane would increase intercontinental traffic mayfold.

JAZZ SETTING FOR MASS TO HAVE DEBUT

By BILL W. DEAN
OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — They chide Frank Tirro about writing the instrumental parts for "five hungry friends."

It would have been six, he says. "If there had been a good swinging flute. But I'm a realist. I used what was available."

So Tirro's jazz setting for the mass is written for trumpet, two saxophones, bass and drums, plus chorus. It brings together something of the oldest and newest in music: Gregorian chant and sophisticated jazz.

BREEDS CONTROVERSY

The mass will get its first professional performance here April 17 by the Omaha symphony orchestra and symphonic chorus.

The Rev. Otto Sotnak, associate pastor of Woodlawn Emanuel Lutheran Church in Chicago, says his choir also is considering doing the Tirro mass at the University of Chicago.

The younger generation apparently has real interest in church music with a beat. For instance, though a lot of churchmen and musicians dislike it, a "20th Century Folk Mass" continues to draw attention and breed controversy nearly a decade after it was written by the Rev. Geoffrey Beaumont, vicar of St. George's in South London.

PLAYS COLLEGE DATES

Tirro's mass is based on an 11th Century Gregorian chant, "O Pater Excelsis." It can be sung in Latin, though the premiere will be in English.

Frank Tirro, 25, is a graduate student in music at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. When he has time, he plays clarinet and sax in Peter Palmer's band which travels out of Chicago playing mostly college dates.

While Tirro was studying at the University of Nebraska a year ago, the Beaumont mass was attracting attention in the area. There was even talk of giving it at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Omaha where Frank was choir-master.

Apparently prompted by this interest, the Episcopal Chapel and Disciples Student Fellowship at the university commissioned Tirro to write a mass of his own.

MANY PERSONS GET NEW ORAL POLIO VACCINE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Almost half of the population of the metropolitan Harrisburg area has received the first of three doses of the new oral polio vaccine.

Authorities, surprised by the overwhelming response, estimated that well over 100,000 persons lined up Thursday for the first round of the serum.

The city has a population of about 80,000 with a total of some 210,000 in the Harrisburg metropolitan area.

The test, the final one needed for licensing of the serum, concerns effective minimum dosage. Some 1,000 persons volunteered to undergo blood tests and other checks after each dose to furnish more detailed information.

14 DISTRIBUTIONS

The vaccine is not expected to be ready for general distribution until about 1963.

The Dauphin County Medical society planned a one-day distribution and set up 14 places where persons could receive the free vaccine.

Despite the planning and preparation, however, problems arose. Most of the distribution points were swamped. Long lines of persons, three and four abreast, waited as long as three hours to receive the vaccine.

Outside, traffic also became a

FRIDAY FARE

Nutritious vegetable dish.
Fish Stocks Potatoes
Broccoli with Cheese Sauce
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
BROCCOLI WITH CHEESE SAUCE

1 bunch (1 1/2 pounds) broccoli, 1 cup boiling water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/4 pound processed American cheese (finely diced), and 2 pimientos (diced).

Pare outer covering from broccoli stalks with swivel-blade vegetable peeler; divide stalks evenly. Wash in cold water and drain. Cook broccoli in large skillet with boiling water and salt, covered, just until tender — 7 to 10 minutes. Drain and keep warm. Melt butter in saucepan; stir in flour and mustard; add milk; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened. Remove from heat; add cheese and stir until melted; add pimiento. Serve sauce over broccoli. Makes 6 servings.

EASTER BUFFET

Repeated by request!
Baked Ham Potato Puff
Green Peas with Mushrooms
Holiday Cucumber Salad
Daffodil Cake Beverage
HOLIDAY CUCUMBER SALAD
4 cucumbers (each 8 to 10 inches long), 1/2 cup cider vinegar, 1 tablespoon cold water, 2 1/2 teaspoons salt, 4 teaspoons sugar, 1/4 to 1/2 cup minced parsley and green pepper.

SIGNED WAIVER
Each of those receiving the vaccine had to sign a waiver. Dr. Frank Procopio, a spokesman for the society, said the form was required by the U.S. Public Health Service since the serum is not yet licensed.

He also said that since the entire project was a volunteer effort, it would not be fair to burden the physicians with the responsibility in case of some mishap.

The society said the vaccine will be distributed at the Scottish Rite Cathedral Saturday for persons who were unable to get it Thursday because of the crowds. Persons participating in the program will get additional dosages in May and June.

cucumbers. Cover and refrigerate 3 to 6 hours; turn in marinade a few times. Arrange drained cucumbers in serving dish; make a border of the parsley; garnish center with green pepper cut in tiny leaf shapes with canape cutter. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

SMALL FRY PARTY

Easy to make candy.
Tuna Sandwiches
Carrot Sticks
Fruit Gelatin Milk

PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE
2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1 jar (7 ounces) marshmallow cream; 1 cup crunch-style peanut butter, and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Place sugar and milk in a saucepan over medium heat; stir constantly until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil; cover tightly and cook 2 minutes. Uncover and continue boiling, without stirring, to soft-ball stage (240 degrees on candy thermometer). Remove from heat. Add marshmallow cream, peanut butter and vanilla; stir just enough to combine. Turn into buttered 8-inch square cake pan. Refrigerate 20 minutes before cutting.

Alternate Jurors Needed For Trial

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Only two alternate jurors remained to be seated today for the trial of Ralph Staino Jr., 28, of Philadelphia, and John Berkery, 30, of Haddon Heights, N.J., on charges of burglarizing the home of John B. Rich, wealthy coal mine owner.

With opening statements still to be made, court attendants said the taking of testimony might not begin until Monday.

Four women and eight men were seated as the regular jurors before court recessed Thursday.

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR
The Associated Press

Did the hot, humid weather of last summer leave its mark on your photo equipment? Did your darkroom smell musty and was there mildew on your photo paper or rust on your paper cutter blade? They were the results of heat, excessive moisture and poor air circulation and were particularly noticeable in basement darkrooms.

Here are some of the things camera fans can do to keep their darkroom dry and their equipment protected as compiled by Bruce Burnham in the August issue of Popular Photography:

1. The most expensive answer to the problem is installation of an air conditioner. It's an answer most amateurs can't afford. A less expensive moisture remover is a dehumidifier. It's a small refrigerating unit which can condense up to three gallons of water from the air every 24 hours. An accessory humidistat, plus connection to a drain pipe, will make the dehumidifier automatic. However, it's still an expensive way to get rid of darkroom moisture.

DRYING AGENT

2. Hang a drying agent in the darkroom. Silica gel, recommended for photographic uses, comes in 12 ounce bags which cost about $1.25 each, is obtainable in many hardware stores. About three bags are ample for average darkrooms. After absorbing an equal weight of water, 12 ounces, each bag can be dried out in the kitchen stove and used over again.

Silica gel can also be hung from an enlarger which is then covered and sealed with a plastic bag. It'll prevent rusting.

3. Dry the darkroom with heat. An electric heater can be run for a couple of hours during or after a rainy or humid spell. Or electric light bulbs can be left burning, day and night, in the darkroom or in a closet where materials are stored.

MAKE COVERS

4. Don't leave solutions in uncovered trays or pools of water to stand in the sink. Make tight-fitting tray and tank covers for solutions which are not in use.

5. Keep working areas dry. Bench tops and wood areas should be painted first to prevent moisture absorption and should be dried after working sessions. Place newspapers under trays before starting work to absorb splashes and spills. When they are discarded, they should be removed entirely from the room and thrown away.

6. Keep basement windows closed in hot, humid weather. The air outside contains more moisture, especially at night, than the air indoors, says Burnham. The hot, damp outside air gets into the cooler darkroom, and its temperature begins to drop. As its capacity to hold moisture decreases, the excess moisture condenses on cool surfaces. If there were continuous good air circulation throughout the basement, it would offset the air cooling process.

INDOOR AIR

7. Don't let clothes dryers exhaust their hot, damp air indoors. You can install a venting system to the outside with flexible plastic pipe or a galvanized tin pipe.
8. If you have a ventilating fan in the darkroom, draw the air supply from indoors and let the exhaust go outdoors. The air indoors is drier than the air outdoors in humid weather.

9. Protect metal equipment with rust preventative or oil. Clean off any rust which may have started, apply a light coating of machine oil and wipe with a clean rag. A fine film will remain which will act as a rust preventative. This does not apply to internal camera parts, however! That's a job for a specialist.

10. Keep the darkroom door closed after you've taken any of the suggestions listed. Dense smoke billowed out of the old brick building as a company of firemen brought up hoses and a ladder. Firefighters climbed to strategic positions, streams of water shot out and gradually the situation was brought under control.

Through it all, a photographer, immobile in a wheelchair, followed the action through his away as fast as he could turn camera viewfinder, snapping the film.

It was an exciting series of pictures for the wheelchair camera fan — but not of front page caliber.

ALL WERE GUESTS

There were 20 other equally handicapped photographers who were guests of New York City's fire commissioner at a special Fire Department training drill. The program was arranged by Volunteer Service Photographers, an organization which brings photography to shut-ins in 46 hospitals and rehabilitation centers in six states.

The photography field day for chair-borne and stretcher-bound photo fans is the latest exploit in the 20-year history of VSP. It marked the start of its fall program.

Here are some of the things VSP does to achieve its program:

It gives instructions to hospital patients in basic photography, lighting techniques, developing, printing, enlarging, making exhibition prints and photo oil coloring.

It provides hospitals with volunteers, photographic equipment, advice on rehabilitation photography and on constructing photo labs designed for different types of patients.

GRADUAL EXPANSION

VSP started as a war service program to aid wounded servicemen of World War II and the Korean conflict. There has been a gradual expansion of its services to civilian hospitals where it has been shown it can aid such extreme cases as victims of polio, cerebral palsy and muscular dystrophy.

Photography is a mental stimulant to take patients' thoughts away from their ailments and give them something to do to fill their long waiting hours. In many cases it stimulates damaged muscles to renewed activity. It is an accomplishment they can show or send to their families and friends.

Camera clubs or individual fans can find out how to start a photography program in their local hospitals by writing to Volunteer Service Photographers, 111 West 57th St., New York, 19, N.Y.

One-day way to improve your lawn

It doesn't take hard work or expert skill to transform a frustrating lawn into a satisfying one. It doesn't even take a lot of time. In just one afternoon you can keep crabgrass from plaguing you again this year, and plant that better lawn you want. The answer to crabgrass is HALTS®. It lies in wait, kills crabgrass as it sprouts. Yet HALTS lets good grass sprout unharmed, so you can sow all-perennial Scotts seed the same day. Non-burning TURF BUILDER® completes the job, gives new and established grass the protein-building nutrition it needs to thrive.

SAYS FEAR OF WORKING LADY NOT JUSTIFIED

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
PLAINFIELD, N. J. (AP) — One day soon a working mother may be able to derive satisfaction out of her job without fearing she is turning her children into criminals and her husband into a weakling.

Campaigning hard to part the nation's wage earning mothers from their guilt complexes is Judge Libby Sacher.

A mother of two sons and a daughter, she was the first woman to be appointed to the bench in New Jersey.

The diminutive brunette wore her judicial robes for 10 years on Union County's Domestic Relations bench here, and for the past year served on this state's Crime Commission.

NO EVIDENCE

Yet nowhere in her personal or public experience did she find a whit of evidence that working mothers are weakening the family circles.

But to break down the public prejudices forever, she is urging Business and Professional Women's organizations to make some authoritative studies either to prove or disprove the charges against them.

"Being rejected, lack of identity, no sense of belonging, no guidance, feeling unimportant, or overindulged with material things instead of love—these are the emotional problems that create problems in children of rich, poor, working and nonworking mothers."

CULTURE HEALTHIER

The whole culture will be healthier when people stop shaking accusing fingers at working mothers for these reasons, she says:

(1) The nation needs their talents. National Manpower Commission statistics indicated three out of every ten women now working in the U. S. have children of school age.

(2) Mental health problems will decline. "Psychiatrists' couches are full of frustrated women over 40 who make mama's boys or man-haters out of their children by over-attention because they have little else to be interested in."

(3) It can be good for children. "They are taught self reliance and are permitted to set up their own behavior patterns."

HUSBAND RESENTS JOB

(4) Marriages will be better. "Basic insecurity, fear of competition makes a husband resent his wife's job. Remove the big economic burden on man that drives some into running away from their responsibility and you will make a real partnership."

Some times pressure against a working mother comes from a child who senses her mother's guilt feelings.

Ed Sacher, husband and business partner, is so proud he made national headlines five years ago. He spoke up at a Senate hearing on the proposal to require women in the Army Reserve to resign their commissions if they had children.

marketing potential . . . that we have seen to date is the C. E. Williams & Sons operation in Gettysburg, Pa.

"This is a young firm on the way up, and it's a family operation. Mr. C. E. Williams, who founded the firm about 20 years ago, passed away in 1959. But the business is being carried on aggressively by his three sons, William J. Williams, Clyde Williams Jr. and Ronald D. Williams.

Bill oversees the sales end of the business, brother Clyde operates the excavating phase, and brother Ron operates the heating oil delivery end of the business.

"But it's the excavating phase . . . and the thoroughness with which it has been integrated with the heating oil end of the business . . . that makes this an interesting marketing operation.

EXCAVATING IS PROFITABLE

"Summer excavating work is profitable in its own right, but it offers many 'plus' advantages to a heating oil dealer. Probably most important is the opportunity for establishing a close working relationship with builders. What better way could there be to break down a builder's resistance to the additional cost of an oil heat installation than to give him really good service on the vital task of excavating . . . even to pricing the job with a good, sharp pencil?

"Of course, they don't get all their business this way. They employ a good bit of direct mail, using the pieces they select from the Solar Heat Programs. And the Williams boys' experience in local athletics, particularly Bill's, who is a former teacher and basketball and football coach, has convinced them of the promotional value of this type of local activity: the firm regularly sponsors high school sports programs and amateur sports.

"C. E. Williams & Sons has been a Gulf Solar Heat outlet since its inception. And its growth since its founding as an out-of-the-home operation provides an encouraging and refreshing note in these hectic days in which we live. Ingenuity, daring and hard work are beginning to pay off for the Williams brothers."

OKAY BILL TO COMBAT MINE SUBSIDENCE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislation which its sponsors estimate will provide a $9.5 million fund to combat mine subsidence problems in the anthracite region has passed the House Wednesday.

Rep. Frank P. Crossin, D-Luzerne, enthusiastically endorsed the measure, which received 180 out of the 189 votes cast, as a "terrific thing for our area."

The next step, he added in an interview, will be a big push to get the proposal through the Senate and a companion federal measure through the Congress.

FEDERAL STATE MONEY
The fund involves both federal and state money appropriated in 1955 to combat surface water draining into hard coal mines. A total of $17 million was appropriated by the two on a 50-50 basis. Crossin said he was told that about $9.5 million was left.

The new measure would authorize use of the remainder of that fund to seal abandoned coal mines and to fill voids in abandoned coal mines.

Crossin said it is intended the money be used to help prevent underground cave-ins that lead to surface subsidences.

He pointed out that the state mines secretary can use the money whenever he feels it is in the public interest, under the bill's provisions.

GIVE WIDE LATITUDE
That would give the secretary the widest latitude in dealing with subsidence problems, Crossin added.

Ships, Piers And Offices Are Sold

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Wilson Excursion Lines Inc. has sold its four ships, piers and offices in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and Boston to the Wilson Line of Washington, Inc., which it once owned.

Allan McNicol, president, said Wednesday the sale included amusement parks in Pennsilv., N. J., and Tolchester, Md.

A spokesman for the Wilson line of Washington said the merged company will be called the Wilson Steamship Corp.

Wilson excursion has conducted cruises along the Delaware River since 1890.

DEPORTED MAN IRKS LAWYERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carlos Marcello, long accused of heading the underworld in a suburb of New Orleans, La., is providing little help to his lawyers, who claim he was deported to Guatemala forcibly and illegally.

In fact, they seem to be working at crosspurposes.

While the lawyers were filing suit Wednesday in Washington demanding Marcello's return, Marcello acted in Guatemala City very much as if he wanted to stay.

U. S. immigration officers had produced a bill in Congress to give the federal government's consent to the plan.

Reps. James Musto, D-Luzerne, and John F. Bonner, D-Carbon, meanwhile sponsored an administration-backed bill to set up an anthracite mine law study commission to modernize the laws in this field.

Governor May Revoke Old Law

HARRISBURG (AP) — Seafood buffs in Pennsylvania will be able to eat oysters legally this summer for the first time in 190 years if Gov. Lawrence signs a bill approved by the legislature.

Sale of oysters in any month without an "R"—May, June, July and August—has been illegal in Pennsylvania since 1771.

But the legislature decided that modern refrigeration has made the old law—enacted to protect consumers against spoiled seafood—unnecessary in 1961.

The Senate completed legislative action on the repealer by a vote of 48-0 Wednesday and sent it to Lawrence for his signature.

TO INCREASE HOUSE SEATS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposed Constitutional amendment to increase the number of seats in the House was introduced Wednesday along with a new congressional reapportionment bill.

Rep. James J. A. Gallagher, D-Bucks, introduced the congressional reapportionment proposal, which would retain the six congressional seats in Philadelphia.

He would have existing single seats for Montgomery and Berks County combined into one district with Schuylkill County, accounting for two of the three seats Pennsylvania is to lose under the 1960 census figures.

The Cambria-Indiana-Armstrong district would be broken up and scattered among three other districts to eliminate the third seat.

Gallagher also proposed reshuffling of several districts.

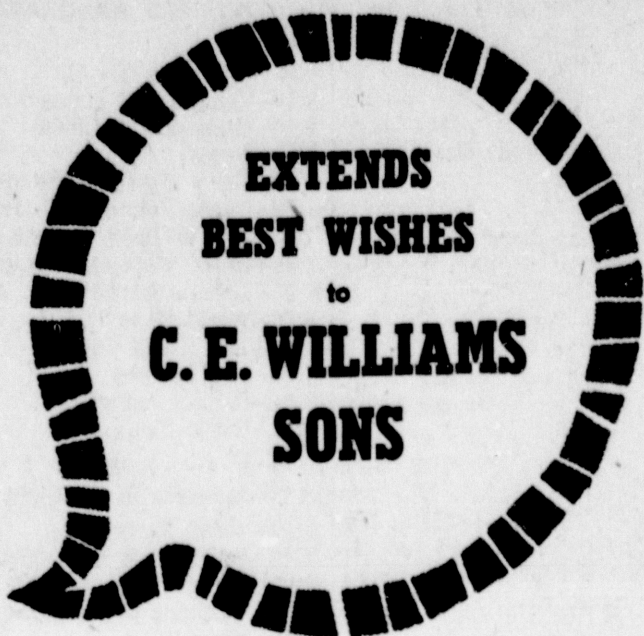

However, legislative leaders are planning to start a series of meetings later in this month to work out bipartisan reapportionment proposals for the legislature and congress.

The proposal to increase the House membership was in the form of a Constitutional amendment that would make the new base for House membership 250. At present it is 200.

Fox, told airport reporters: "It's all decided now."

Dr. Tom Dooley's Mother Relates Stories Of Life

By BILL ROBINSON

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dr. Tom Dooley's mother is a hardy woman whose strength has been tempered by grief.

At 65, attractive, gray-haired Mrs. Agnes Dooley has not forgotten how to smile.

The death of Tom, the famed jungle doctor of Laos, blunted her innate drive and sapped her energy, but her resilient spirit asserted itself. Soon she addressed herself to Tom's unfinished business.

She manages a smile and observes, "Tom could see you a white blackbird," as she recalls his successful effort to woo brother Malcolm from a promising business career to become president of Medico, the organization Tom helped found. It's dedicated to establishing hospitals and bringing medical care to underdeveloped areas.

LOOKS BACK

Medico is now a primary factor in the lives of Mrs. Dooley and Malcolm.

Looking back at the boyhood of her sons, Mrs. Dooley says they were all proud and independent, qualities they learned at home, "Tom's father was a very practical man."

She recalls summers in Wisconsin and family swimming parties.

"Tom was a strong swimmer," she says. "He saved two people from drowning, once in St. Louis and another time in the Atlantic Ocean."

"He loved mountains and music and sunsets but he had an almost equal regard for steak, potatoes and ice cream with chocolate sauce."

And then she adds: "Tom was a fine pianist. We thought for awhile that he might be a musician. He even dragged a piano to Laos from Hong Kong."

OLDEST SON KILLED

Agnes Dooley has had her share of sorrows. The first was the death of her only daughter.

In 1944, Earle, her oldest son, was killed in Germany. A first lieutenant in the infantry, he had planned to become a career diplomat before the war.

Mrs. Dooley proudly shows visitors to her five-room apartment two purple hearts, a silver star and a bronze star, won by Earle.

Her husband died a few years after Earle. Then Tom contracted the cancer that later claimed his life the day after his 34th birthday. To heighten the pain of Tom's death was the fact that he apparently had been cured earlier.

Across the country the image of Dr. Tom Dooley, the jungle physician who battled disease and heat and inadequate medical supplies and equipment — and cancer — to bring treatment to the natives of Laos, drew quick admiration and sympathy.

DOCTORATE DEGREES

When he died he had six doctorate degrees, the Legion of Merit, which he won as a naval doctor in Viet Nam.

In the days following Tom's death Mrs. Dooley was overwhelmed by the official reaction. Condolences came from every part of the world and every strata of society and government. Agnes Dooley mourned staunchly and privately.

Deluged with mail, she has taken on a demanding task of reading and answering it. "It's painful. The letters sometimes recall vivid memories, but I want to do it because it may help complete Tom's work."

Mrs. Dooley was just about the only woman in Tom's life. She tells you "like all healthy American boys, he liked girls. But there didn't seem to be any particular one."

"He used to tell me, 'Dad didn't get married until he was 40 and he did all right. I've got plenty of time.'"

MONUMENTAL MIXUP

Ft. Sumter Relief Fleet Sails—Minus A Flagship

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 7—

The dizzying story of the Navy's relief expedition to troubled Ft. Sumter—and of its runaway flagship—was being pieced together by outraged Navy officials today.

The flagship, U.S.S. Powhatan, outdistanced the rest of the expedition and steamed off for parts unknown.

All indications are that a monumental fiasco in Washington caused the confusion here.

VESSELS loaded with supplies for the South Carolina outpost left New York some 48 hours ago in compliance with an order issued earlier this week by President Lincoln.

The Powhatan, commanded by Lt. David D. Porter, raced away from the formation after Porter defied telegraphed orders from Secretary of State Seward to give up command of the vessel.

As Capt. Andrew H. Foote, commander of the Navy Yard here, related the series of events, Lt. Porter had ordered the expedition to sea a short time before the message from Secretary Seward was received at the Navy Yard.

Capt. Foote sent a messenger with the telegram in a fast launch to overtake the Powhatan.

According to Capt. Foote, Lt. Porter read the message, wrote a return wire to the effect that he was under direct orders of President Lincoln, and cast off, soon gaining full steam and eluding pursuers.

NAVY sources here learned that a confusion in orders involving Mr. Lincoln, Secretary Seward and Navy Secretary Welles touched off the Powhatan incident.

Porter was given command of the Powhatan in an order prepared by Seward and signed hastily by Mr. Lincoln.

Secretary Welles heard of the orders, visited Mr. Lincoln at midnight two days ago, and convinced him that the Porter assignment was an error.

Mr. Lincoln then directed Seward to cancel the order. Seward did this under his own signature—in the telegram that reached the Navy Yard here just after Porter sailed.

BUT SINCE the erroneous orders were under Mr. Lincoln's signature and the correcting orders under Seward's, Lt. Porter asserted he would obey the original directive—and took off.

Capt. Foote speculated that Lt. Porter might be heading for Ft. Pickens, at Pensacola, Fla., the only other Union stronghold left in the South.

Ft. Sumter, goal of the relief expedition now at sea, is threatened by guns such as the one above. It is a Parrot rifle at Morris Island, in Charleston Harbor.

The expedition was organized under direction of Gustavus Vasa Fox, acting as a special consultant to Mr. Lincoln.

Mr. Lincoln ordered the expedition readied for sea and provisioned in a dramatic decision four days ago. The force that left here—without its flagship—forms the hard core of it.

Force On Way

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 8—Gov. F. W. Pickens of South Carolina was officially informed today that the Federal government will reprovision Ft. Sumter, in Charleston Harbor.

Robert S. Chew, a War Department employee, delivered to Gov. Pickens a message from President Lincoln to the effect that a relief expedition was heading for Ft. Sumter.

Gov. Pickens immediately telegraphed Confederate President Jefferson Davis, at Montgomery, Ala., for instructions.

DOLORES, Colo. (AP) — Guests of the dude ranch in ted by the three Roscio brothers get more than the usual dose of Old West local color.

Ten of the 25 guest units at the ranch are buildings used as dwellings or saloons at Dunton, once a lively mining settlement that became a ghost village more than 40 years ago.

Two of the old saloons have been converted into cabins and a third is now a tavern complete with bar stools. Nearby is an old dance hall, still intact, that is used for public dances occasionally. It has a bullet hole in the floor from wilder and

Cites Ways U.S. Can Help Pupils In Private Schools

NEW YORK (AP)—The attorney for the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York proposes four methods by which students of parochial and private schools might be granted federal aid to education benefits without violating the Constitution.

The suggestions were made by Lawrence X. Cusack, who also is editor of the Fordham University Law Reviews.

He presented his views, on behalf of Francis Cardinal Spellman in a statement filed in Washington with the House Committee on Education and Labor.

President Kennedy excluded aid to parochial schools from his program of aid to education.

CUSACK'S SUGGESTIONS

Cusack's suggestions were:

1. To make a distinction, as did President Kennedy in a news conference March 1, between aid to the child and aid to the school. By this means, said Cusack, direct benefits could be granted to all school children, including those attending church-related schools. Various possibilities were cited as providing pupils with nonreligious textbooks and supplies, and to make available to them certain nonreligious educational services.

2. Some form of grant or benefit for parents of all school children, such as reimbursement for tuition payments or income tax deductions.

3. Long-term low-interest loans in which church-related schools could participate. The interest would be lower than on loans obtained commercially.

4. Aid for the nonreligious facilities of church-related schools and perhaps compensation of teachers who instruct in secular subjects.

3 BILLS GET SETBACK IN SHORT SESSION

HARRISBURG (AP)—An administration-endorsed bill guaranteeing equality in education opportunities regardless of race, creed or nationality took a temporary setback in the House Wednesday.

It was one of three setbacks dealt to the administration in a six-hour session in the lower chamber.

Earlier, the House Motor Vehicles Committee upset Democratic floor leader Stephen McCann's timetable by delaying action on the administration's radar bill.

The bill proposing to ban discrimination in any institution of higher education, except those operated by religious groups, fell three votes short of passage, 103-84.

SOUGHT TO AMEND BILL

Republicans withheld all but two votes for the measure when Democrats refused a request of the GOP assistant floor leader, Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins, to delay the final vote until next week.

Tompkins sought to amend the bill to restrict it to the some 25 institutions receiving state aid. His amendments got to him just a few minutes before the bill was called for a vote.

The bill is expected to be re-voted next week under a parliamentary maneuver that permits any member who voted against it today to move for reconsideration next week.

House GOP floor leader Albert W. Johnson said Republicans would do so.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bowers and son, Michael, of Millington, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waring and son, Robert, Philadelphia, spent Easter with the former's mother, Mrs. Parvin Bowers.

The following were baptized on Easter in the York Springs Lutheran Church by the supply pastor, Chaplain Gomer Rees: Brian David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Prosser, and Zoe Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Stough. Received into membership were Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stuart and Richard Cook.

Mrs. Parvin Bowers has returned home after spending several days with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Kennedy, Five Points.

Sgt. William O'Leary is spending a 30-day furlough with his wife and two daughters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Mulkey. At the conclusion of his furlough he will return to Ramstein, Germany, for another year. Mrs. O'Leary is the former Miss Madge Mulkey.

There have been only two 20-game winners in the American League over the past three seasons. Bob Turley won 21 for the New York Yankees in 1958 and Early Wynn took 22 for the Chicago White Sox a year later.

Senate Approves New Game Measure

HARRISBURG (AP)—A measure giving the State Game Commission discretion for setting seasons for hunting certain game birds on regulated grounds is in the House after winning Senate approval.

A vote of 48-0 was recorded Wednesday on the bill which applies to domestically produced pheasants, bobwhite quail, chukar borpartridges and mallard or black ducks. Present law requires the commission to set the season for these birds to coincide with the statewide small game season.

KAOHSIUNG, Formosa (AP)—Hundreds of firefighters subdued a 17-hour blaze aboard a small tanker Thursday and a tug towed the listing ship into the Formosa Strait, ending the danger of a gasoline explosion in Kaohsiung harbor.

HENRY CANBY PASSES AWAY

OSISING, N.Y. (AP) — Henry Seidel Canby, noted editor, teacher, and a leading figure in American literary criticism for many years, died here Wednesday. He was 82.

Canby was a founder of the Saturday Review of Literature, and the first editor in chief of the Book-of-the-Month Club. He left the club in 1958 after an association of 32 years. He had been in poor health for the past six years.

Born in Wilmington, Del., Canby was graduated from Yale University and took his doctorate there. His first book, "The Short Story in English," written in 1909, for many years was a standard text on the literary form of the short story.

ON YALE FACULTY

He became a member of Yale's faculty, and also taught at Dartmouth College, the University of California and England's Cambridge University.

After World War I, during which he saw service abroad with the British Committee of War In-

Committee Will Select GOP Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky has decided to turn over to a 26-member executive committee the job of picking his successor as Republican national chairman.

Morton has called a committee meeting in Washington for April 21-22. He heads the group.

Morton said that among the party business to be considered will be a recommendation for his successor. Morton steps down in June.

As matters stand, Rep. William E. Miller of New York appears to have the inside track for the job. Miller now heads the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

Gen. Alexander M. Patch of World War II fame was born in Fort Huachuca, Ariz., in 1889, only two years after the fort was founded.

HEIRS TO GET $15 MILLION

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J. (AP) — More than $5 million from the $34,147,172 estate of Eldridge Reeves Johnson, founder of the Victor Talking Machine Co., will go to heirs in Pennsylvania.

The Burlington County surrogate's office said Wednesday the first and final accounting of the estate has been approved by Judge Lester A. Drenk.

Johnson, whose firm is now a division of RCA-Victor, died in 1945 at the age of 78.

Under terms of the will five trust funds were set up.

Johnson's widow, Elsie R. F. Johnson of Bryn Mawr; his son, Eldridge R. F. Johnson of Gladwynne; and two grandchildren, Eldridge R. Johnson II of West Chester, and George F. Johnson of Newtown Square, will share a total of $3,866,668 in one trust fund.

The other funds amount to $521,301 for Elise MacEwan McVey of Wynnewood, a niece; $521,700 to George F. MacEwan of Bryn Mawr, a nephew; $257,249 to Eldridge J. MacEwan Jr. of Wynnewood and $259,893 to James E. MacEwan of West Chester.

to His disciples early in the springtime as all nature was awakening out of the long winter sleep. New life was struggling up and breaking through the earth into the warm sunshine. The Lord informed them that they, too, would have tribulation, but in the midst of their coming trials and troubles they were to take courage and be of good cheer for He had conquered the world. The evidence of His glorious victory is seen in the empty tomb on Easter morning and in His postresurrection appearances in the midst of His disciples as all followers.

Christians, in these days of world-wide unrest, mistrust and transition, are opposed by godless, unscrupulous men, who with false promises and appearances liberate weak peoples from internal powers to enslave them. They boldly proclaim that they will bury the powerful free nations. Weeds, thorns and thistles grow, when unmolested, to choke out the grain and vegetables which sustain life. Even so the trials and tribulations of this world seem to threaten our very existence, but have been conquered by our Lord Who overcame sin, death and the grave.

TWO ENVIRONMENTS
We live, at one and the same time, in two contrasted environments. We exist amidst the world of things and also, as Christians, in the kingdom of God on earth. The person, who by faith and with prayer, lives in communion with Jesus Christ, has peace even in the midst of stress and strain. In Him we are free from anxiety and worry about the past, the present and the future. Such a one comes to fully realize, with Paul of old, that "the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed to usward."

Once again Easter has reminded us that the Son of God did, by way of the Cross and the empty tomb, overcome the world, manifest the Heavenly Father's great love for mankind and provide reconciliation with God and redemption from sin, for all who by faith accept Him as Saviour. Even so, if our faith is strong enough for us to let Him work His will and way into our hearts and lives, we shall share His victory and hear the still small voice within us say, over and over again, "Be of good cheer; I HAVE OVERCOME THE WORLD."

What is home? A blend of memories and mortar . . . walls and roof and smells of breakfast cooking . . . a place of rest at the end of the day . . . a feeling of possession, of belonging . . . a place of hates, loves, anger . . . center of things living.

Home may be a mansion on a hill, a cramped apartment, a farmhouse, a hovel, a new suburban split-level, the house Father built . . . but only to you and your family is it home. No one else may call it that. For home is a part of you!

Centuries ago a shepherd-poet felt this. Weary, lonely seasons on the grazing slopes had taught him to love . . . to long for . . . HOME.

But he realized that, through this life and beyond, the nearness of God is part of the sense of home. Goodness and mercy would follow him all the days of his life. And he would dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

Give the Church and its Truth a place in your home. And God's presence will give eternal meaning to that home.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ART DIRECTOR WILL SPEAK AT SAINT JOSEPH

John Andrews, vice president and art director of the Dow Advertising Agency, will visit Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, on Saturday, April 15, to deliver a lecture on the graphic arts. The lecture will be the ninth in the series of ten programs offered by Saint Joseph College in the Institute on the Fine Arts in a Christian Culture.

The subject of the lecture will be "Revival of the Lost Art of Engraving Through the Art Medium of Scrapboard." It will cover the beginnings of book illumination through steel engraving, then a revival of wood engraving to the present use of many art media to illustrate books. Scratchboard, or scraperboard, is a pseudo art medium for wood engraving which Mr. Andrews has perfected for his book illustrations because of the speed in working the process and the ease with which it reproduces in books.

TAUGHT GRAPHIC ARTS

Educated in Minneapolis and Milwaukee, Mr. Andrews has taught graphic arts at Joslyn Art Museum, Dana College, Omaha Art School, and formerly was the head of the Art Department at Creighton University in Omaha, Neb. He is active in various associations of artists and art directors, and has written articles on his work for numerous magazines. His work has received many awards in shows conducted by advertising and civic groups in the Midwest. He conducted his own studio in Omaha for 11 years prior to becoming a partner in the Dow Advertising Agency.

Mr. Andrews' liturgical art centers around the books which he has illustrated, including "A New Way of the Cross," and "God, A Woman, and the Way." His "Stations of the Cross" have been reproduced in stained glass as background for stations in a Washington, D. C., chapel, and are at present being carved in wood by M. Roderer of Oberammergau for a chapel in Altoona.

LAST LECTURE MAY 13

The Institute of Fine Arts, financed by a grant from the Esso Education Foundation, has presented prominent guest artists conducting demonstrations and lectures in their respective fields of art. According to Donald J. Waters, M.F.A., associate professor of speech and drama at Saint Joseph College, the guest artists have illustrated to their large groups of participants the importance of the fine arts in Christian culture.

The final lecture of the series, on sculpture, will be presented by Anne Martin on May 13 on the Saint Joseph College campus. Anne Martin, winner of the Chaloner Prize in 1954 and 1955, is a graduate of Columbia University School of Painting and Sculpture, and is an instructor in sculpture at City College of New York.

New State Jobless Claims On Decline

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Employment Security Bureau reports the number of new unemployment compensation claims increased slightly last week but continued claims declined.

The bureau said Thursday that initial claims for the week ending March 31 totaled 36,710 compared to 35,294 the preceding week. The number of continued claims was 287,506, a drop of 12,149 from the 299,655 from the previous week.

Continued expansion of outdoor construction activity was credited for part of the drop in the number of continued claims but the bureau said some of the decrease was because claimants had exhausted their benefits.

Cabbies Strike In Pittsburgh Dispute

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mechanics and drivers of the Yellow Cab Co. of Pittsburgh have struck over a new contract dispute. The employees walked out midnight Thursday on expiration of their contracts.

Pickets appeared at the company's main garage on the city's North Side after meetings between federal and state mediators and company and employee representatives failed to avert the strike.

Sandburg At Gettysburg On TV Thursday

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's pace is slowing as the weather becomes warmer, but it will be sparked during the next few days by special shows—on the Eichmann trial, on the White House, on the Civil War.

"CBS Reports" on Thursday (10-11 p.m.) is Carl Sandburg at Gettysburg talking about the Civil War. ABC's "Silents Please" (10:30-11) is a reprise of the film career of Will Rogers.

Tonight, however, the main item on the bill is NBC's "Sing Along With Mitch" (9-10 Eastern Standard Time). Saturday's most promising specials include CBS' report on the Master's Golf Tournament (5-6 p.m.) from the Augusta National Golf Club and NBC's "Nation's Future" debate on whether the trial of Nazi Eichmann serves the cause of international justice (9:30-10:30).

SATURDAY'S SHOWS

Sunday, as usual, has a number of promising programs. ABC's "Directions '61" (1-1:30 p.m.) will tackle an abbreviated dramatization of "Doctor Zhivago." There is also the final "Young People's Concert" by the New York Philharmonic orchestra on CBS (3-4). ABC's "Issues and Answers" (4:30-5) will have the internal revenue commissioner, Mortimer Caplin, talking about the income tax laws. NBC's briefing session, "The Trial of Adolf Eichmann" will be broadcast from 6:30 to 7. "J. F. K., Report No. 2," NBC's special Tuesday night (10-11) will show the President and the First Lady in the White House. On Tuesday evening CBS will repeat its "Eichmann—Engineer of Death" (10-11).

ATOMIC AGE FAITH

CHICAGO (AP) — The Methodist Church has set up a special 12-member commission to study "the Christian faith and war in the nuclear age."

The approximately 40 mechanics earlier in the day rejected an offer of a 10-cent-hourly wage increase over a two-year period. They have been earning $2.45 an hour.

Some of the offer rejected by some 1,100 drivers were not specified.

Lodge 1060, International Association of Machinists, represents the mechanics. The drivers are represented by Local 128, Taxi Drivers Union.

Chevrolet 700 Lakeside Station Wagon

Monza Club Coupe

One of these Chevy Corvairs wants

YOU

(in a friendly way, of course)

Either of these Corvairs would make you a wonderful traveling companion. (Any of Corvair's ten budget-priced models would, for that matter.) The Lakeside Station Wagon earns its keep with a solid 68 cubic feet of cargo space, 10 of it under that lockable hood. And the Monza Club Coupe, with its bucket-type front seats, lets you in on some ultra-comfortable driving.

And they both handle and brake and perform beautifully. (Proof of the pudding is the way the '61 Corvair manhandled the recent Canadian Winter Rally, winning outright and taking the first five places in its class in this rugged 1,265-mile test.) Look 'em over at your dealer's. And if you can't decide which one you want, feel free to take both.

Tells Of Two White House Babies In Cleveland's Reign

By SAM HARTZ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maybe Caroline Kennedy would like to know more about the big, mustached man whose picture hangs in a White House reception room and about his little daughters.

He's Grover Cleveland and March 18 was his birthday.

Like your own daddy, Caroline, President Cleveland lived in the White House with a little girl about your age and a baby . . . Ruth, 2½, and sister Esther, 6 months.

Of course, all this was long ago—even before your mother and father were born.

Their mother's name was Frances, but President Cleveland called her Frankie. She was very pretty, like your mother.

Mrs. Cleveland was the country's youngest First Lady. She was only 21 when she married Grover Cleveland in the White House in 1886. He was lots older—49.

NOT MUCH HELP

Back in 1894, taking care of children was harder than it is today. There were no fancy washing machines and special baby foods. And there were fewer people to help in the White House.

Mrs. Cleveland spent most of her time tending to her little girls.

The whole country was excited when Esther was born in the White House in 1893. She was the first President's child to be born there.

Esther received presents from all over the world—chamois skin gloves, fancy dresses and silks and wools. She shared them with Ruth.

In 1895 another baby sister, Marian, came to live with Ruth. She was born at her father's summer home at Buzzards Bay, Mass. That's less than 15 miles from Hyannis Port. You've been there with your father and mother.

Marian got to do something exciting when she was only two months old. She was allowed to press an electric button that swung open the gates of a big show way off in Atlanta, Ga. It was called the Cotton States and International Exposition.

Maybe some time your father will let you do something like that.

GIRLS AND DADS

But Presidents' little girls, like all others, help most just by being around. On September 10, 1893, after Esther was born, a newspaper called the Brooklyn Eagle printed something you might like to read when you are older:

"Ruth and her sister will open their hearts to him, will enable him to see truth in their eyes, and will compensate him with their little ways and with their infinite knowledge of wonderland, for all the frets and lets of presidency. . . ."

That has some big words, but it just means that Grover Cleveland loved his children very much and that helped him in his work.

The President was very busy, but spent as much time with his little girls as he could. Almost every evening he would take Ruth into his office and draw pictures with her on sheets of paper spread out on his desk.

DADDY PROUD

President Cleveland was very proud of his daughters. In a book called "Inside History of the White House," a man named Wilson Gillette tells how the President would say:

"Frankie, bring Ruth in here."

Mrs. Cleveland would answer: "I can't let you see her now. She's going to play on the grass and she's got a soiled apron on."

But the President would say: "Never mind the apron, bring her in."

And then Mrs. Cleveland would bring Ruth in for the President to show off to his friends.

UNWANTED KISSES

The White House has more people to watch after children today than in 1894. When Cleveland's nurse took her out for an airing, crowds of people would come up

MISS MARY HAINES

HARNEY—Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Benner and daughter, Lebanon, visited Monday with E. P. Shriver.

Mrs. Wester Kettie, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Angell, for several months, returned to her home in Rome, N. Y., Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Ridinger, Mr. and Mrs. John Ridinger and son, John, and daughter, Patty, and Mrs. Edna Snider visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Varner, Washington, D. C.

Visitors Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Angell were Mrs. Frank Blyer, Steelton; John Radle and son, Robert, Harrisburg; Mrs. Isabelle Baughnate and daughter, Lois, New Cumberland; Mrs. Austa Perrine and Daniel Lenker, Millersville; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hamilton and Bonnie Umholtz, New Cumberland, and Francis Seipp, Westminster.

Mrs. Berlin Caplers and Miss Connie Snyder, Reese, visited Monday with their grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Haines, and their aunt, Mary Haines.

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN—The Taneytown town council at a meeting Monday evening approved payment of $6,000 on outstanding indebtedness, and $1,133 in other bills, leaving a balance of $8,335 in the treasury. The parking meter fund balance is $2,587.

Council was told the Lions Club plans to build a community center in Memorial Park and all organizations are being requested to appoint representatives to serve on the project committee. Councilman Powell was appointed to represent council.

Council cited the ordinance passed last year requiring property owners to mow weeds on their lots. They hope that an early reminder will make it not necessary to enforce the ordinance.

It was reported that street repairs will begin as soon as the contractor is freed from State Roads Commission work.

Several applications have been received for policeman. The next meeting will be held May 1 in the council room.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

to her.

Some tried to kiss Ruth, even though they didn't know her, because she was the President's daughter.

That's one reason why the Cleveland's spent a lot of time in another house just a few miles from the White House. It was called Woodley, like your family's place near Middleburg, Va., is called Glen Ora.

Glen Ora is 45 miles away, but you know when you go by helicopter it takes less time than it did Ruth Cleveland to reach Woodley by horse and carriage.

URGES AID TO S. VIET NAM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., called on the Kennedy administration today to strengthen South Viet Nam's army to avoid the risk of losing this "vital" area to the Communists.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, said all of Southeast Asia may be threatened if the Communists are permitted to gather sufficient strength to take over the country.

"The danger in free Viet Nam could be far more significant and thereby more critical to all of Southeast Asia and to the United States than the present difficulties in Laos," Mansfield said.

He said in an interview he thought consideration should be given to a request of President Ngo Dinh Diem for additional aid to enlarge his 150,000 man army to fight growing terrorism of the Communist Viet Cong.

The United States is spending 150 million a year in South Viet Nam. But Ngo Dinh Diem said in an interview in Saigon that he needs more troops to suppress stepped up activities of the Viet Nam.

Pianist's Playing Causes Train Delay

BALTIMORE (AP) — Madame Agi Jambor, concert pianist, told Ernest R. Fink of Baltimore about the incident at a musical festival in Pennsylvania.

Enroute by train to an engagement in Kalamazoo, Mich., Madame Jambor opened up her portable practice keyboard in her sleeping car berth and clacked away on the gadget to keep her fingers limber.

Next day, the train arrived in Kalamazoo two hours late. When Madame Jambor asked why, the conductor said they had stopped for two hours during the night to make a fruitless search for the source of a dangerous clacking noise in one of the sleeping cars.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem says he must have more U.S. aid to stem the rising tide of Communist terrorism threatening South Viet Nam.

The United States now puts $150 million annually into this Asian nation, but the president believes more money is needed to enlarge the army.

His views were made known in an interview Thursday.

LOVELLETTE TO FACE CELTICS WITH A BRACE

By CHUCK CAPALDO Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks today counted on the probable return of Clyde Lovellette — back brace and all — to give them a much needed lift against the Boston Celtics in pro basketball's world series.

The 6-foot-9 Lovellette, who averaged 20.3 points against the Celtics during the regular season, will be available for duty here Saturday afternoon when the best-of-seven National Basketball Association title playoff resumes. The Hawks trail 0-2.

Lovellette, out of action since March 27 with a twisted back suffered in the semifinal playoffs against the Lakers, has been working out the last few days.

The Hawks' third best rebounder and scorer said the doctors have given him the go-ahead, provided he wear a stiff brace on his back.

CAN'T BEND DOWN

Lovellette said he can't bend down with the brace on and it may hinder his jumping ability. But, he added:

"It doesn't hurt my shooting. I'm hitting pretty good."

Clyde averaged .453 from the floor during the regular campaign. Many of his 1,471 points came on one-handed shots from the outside.

The Hawks feel that a consistent outside shooter would force the Celtics' 6-foot-11 Bill Russell to come out, giving the Hawks a better chance for baskets from inside. So far, Russell, while not breaking any scoring records, has ruined the Hawks with blocks and rebounds. Here, too, Lovellette's 235 pounds would come in handy, if only to jockey Russell out of position.

Buying a USED CAR?

Timely Tips That Can Help Protect Your Investment!

1. Choose your dealer carefully.
2. Buy only from a well established reputable dealer.
3. Buy only from a dealer who maintains his own adequate facilities to service the car you buy.
4. Insist on a WARRANTY in writing that can be "backed-up."
5. BUYING from a NEW CAR DEALER IS YOUR BEST BET. . . . Most new car dealers sell locally owned trade-ins, not Used Cars obtained from Auto Auctions or distress merchandise from large cities.
6. Insist on knowing where the Used Car came from. "Ask who was the previous owner." Most new car dealers will be happy to tell you and invite you to contact the previous owner.
7. New Cars bought from Used Car Dealers . . . REMEMBER, only the New Car Dealer is authorized to extend a FACTORY WARRANTY to a buyer, NO ONE ELSE.
